Idaville Youth, 16, Drowns Christmas Eve When Ice On Skating Pond Gives Away

A 16-year-old Idaville youth, Berdies S. Black, drowned Christmas Eve when he broke through ice while skating on a pond near his home.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County coroner, attributing the death to accidental drowning, said Black, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Black, Idaville, had gone with a classmate at the York Springs High School, Paul Starnier Jr., of Idaville, to skate on the pond sometime before 7:30 o'clock Thursday night. The body was recovered at 10:30 o'clock and Dr. Crist set the hour of drowning as 7:30, three hours before the finding. He praised the skill of Idaville and other firemen who used boats and grappling hooks to recover the youth.

According to Dr. Crist, the youths had phoned Mrs. Ralph Tyson about skating, but Mrs. Tyson had warned them that the ice was too thin. Mrs. Tyson was of the opinion that the youths at that time were referring to another and smaller pond on the Tyson farm.

Ran For Help
Apparently they had then gone to the larger pond and believing the ice was thick enough there had ventured out on its surface. Black was near the center of the pond when the ice gave way dumping him into about ten feet of water.

Starnier took off his shirt and attempted to throw one end of the shirt to Black, in an effort to pull the struggling youth to safety. When he was unable to get the shirt within Black grasp, young Starnier ran to the home of Charles Kuhn. He quickly roused assistance, but when aid arrived at the pond Black had disappeared under the water.

Biglerville firemen were summoned and in turn used radio equipment to summon Gettysburg firemen's light plant and other aid.

Services Monday
Phone calls brought boats from ponds throughout the upper part of the county, and skin divers at York were contacted for assistance. Before the skin divers could arrive however, the firemen had recovered the body.

In addition to his parents, Black is survived by these brothers and sisters, Mrs. LeRoy Starnier, Carlisle, and Darlene, Judy and Gerard Black, at home; by his maternal grandfather, Wilbur Herman, Gardners R. 1; his maternal stepgrandmother, Mrs. Wilbur Herman and his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Mary Black, Gettysburg R. 3.

Funeral services Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Dugan Funeral Home, Bendersville, with the Rev. Ralph Rudisill officiating. Interment in the Idaville Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home in Bendersville Sunday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

SHAFER RITES ON SUNDAY AT 2

Funeral services for Mrs. Alice M. Shaffer, 76, wife of Henry J. Shaffer, Gardners, who died Thursday at the Carlisle Hospital, will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Dugan Funeral Home, Bendersville, with the Rev. Arbe Dorsey officiating. Interment will be in the Bendersville Cemetery and friends may call this evening from 7 to 9 o'clock at the funeral home in Bendersville.

Mrs. Shaffer died at 10:30 o'clock at the Carlisle Hospital after having been a patient there for eight days. She had suffered a stroke three years ago and had been in failing health since that time.

A native of Cumberland County, she was a daughter of the late John and Emma (Shuff) Griffe. She had resided in the Gardners area for many years and was a member of the Idaville United Brethren Church.

Surviving are her husband; eight children, Charles D. Shaffer, Gardners R. 1; Mrs. Merle Slaybaugh, Chambersburg; Paul A. Shaffer, Gardners; James D. Shaffer, York Springs R. 1; Mrs. Daniel Landis, Carlisle; Mrs. Mark Hooper, Mt. Holly Springs; Mrs. Clair Spertzel, Gardners R. 1; and Mrs. Richard Sipe, Fairfield; nine grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Cliff Arquette Plays Santa Claus

More than 1,300 youngsters crowded the Majestic Theater Thursday afternoon for the Christmas party held for them by Cliff Arquette, TV personality and local museum operator. There were more children than seats and many of the smaller youngsters doubled up in single seats. Joseph Cutter (left) served as master of ceremonies and was assisted by John Flynn, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Noel Flynn, Red Patch Ave., in making selections for awards given to the youngsters. Arquette appeared as "Santa Claus." Bicycles were awarded to Kenny Hartman and Suzy Hafer; a sled to William Eden, a doll to Mary Ann Irvin, teddy bear to Dennis Bowling and a doll buggy to Caroline Musselman. (Ziegler Studio Photo)

NEW BOWLING ALLEYS PLAN GRAND OPENING

George R. Shaffer, manager of the new Edgewood Lanes, Emmitsburg Rd., looked at the throng of bowlers happily. "Our future goal is improved service and growth," he said.

"Right now, we're looking forward to our grand opening Monday. Actually, the lanes have been in use since November, shortly after their completion. The 16 lanes are a combination of white pine and maple to assure a fine and constant bowling surface. The facilities are supplied and serviced by Brunswick and have been approved by the American Bowling Congress. We are members of the Bowling Proprietors Association of America. Both these organizations are within the National Bowling Association which has its offices in Washington, D. C."

The inside area of the new one-story building is 14,500 square feet. The building is equipped for air conditioning and well heated. The parking area will accommodate 200 cars and it is planned to enlarge this area in the spring.

Standard Equipment
"The lanes and other equipment are standardized and will meet any bowlers requirements. The balls for instance vary in (Continued On Page 11)

SMITH'S STORE, YORK SPRINGS, CLOSES DOORS

One of the oldest business establishments in York Springs has gone out of business. Harold A. Smith, proprietor of Smith's General Store, closed his business this week because of failing health.

More than 70 years ago the late Howard H. Hershey opened Hershey's Restaurant on Main St. in York Springs. (The building had formerly housed a cannery factory.) It was a popular establishment from the outset. It served a wide variety of foods and one of its earliest clerks was the late G. R. Thompson, who later became sheriff of Adams County, served as chairman of the Adams County Republican Committee and also was elected to the House of Representatives in the state Legislature.

Hershey's Restaurant specialized in oysters and then became the first business in the area to sell ice cream, an immediate popularity.

IN COLLEGE BAND

Miss Marsha Griest, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Griest Jr., Biglerville R. 1, was among 36 students recently named members of the Ursinus College Concert and Marching Band. Miss Griest, a member of the class of 1963, is a member of the percussion section of the band and plays the glockenspiel. The band makes several appearances during the late winter and spring months and conducts concerts in communities surrounding the college in Collegeville.

Death Toll On Highways Across Nation Mounting

Traffic Fires 257

Miscellaneous 22

Total 279

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Death dampened the Christmas spirit on the nation's highway Saturday. A steadily mounting record of fatalities—aboard of last year's pace—brought authorities' pleas for redoubled safety efforts.

As the halfway point of the three-day holiday neared, more than seven persons lost their lives each hour in accidents involving cars, buses and trains.

Urgo Extreme Care

A spokesman for the National Safety Council urged motorists to use extreme caution during the coming hours. He blamed the highway death toll on bad weather and heavy traffic.

YOUNG FATHER TAKES HIS LIFE ON CHRISTMAS

A 25-year-old farm worker, Roy Lee Andrews, New Oxford R. 1, left his small son and wife in their trailer home at the Paul Spicer farm in Straban Twp. Christmas afternoon, went to the Spicer barn and shot himself through the chest with a 12-gauge shotgun.

Dr. C. G. Crist, the Adams County coroner, said the death was a suicide.

Paul Spicer discovered the shooting moments after it happened. Spicer was on the ground floor of the barn when he heard a shot on the second floor. He rushed there to find Andrews had shot himself. The death occurred 10 minutes later, according to the coroner.

A native of West Chester, Andrews was a son of Orl McKabe and Virginia A. (Bailey) Andrews, of Gettysburg R. 4. The family had for a time resided at Elkton, N. C., and the younger Andrews family came here from there when Andrews became a laborer on the Spicer farm.

Surviving in addition to his parents are his wife, the former Nancy Brown; a son, Michael, at home; a grandmother, Mrs. Mae Bailey, of Ennice, N. C., and these brothers and sisters: Jackie R. Andrews, New Oxford, and Donald R. Andrews, and John R. Andrews, all of Gettysburg R. 4.

Funeral services Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock from the Fred F. Feiser Funeral Home, New Oxford, with the Rev. Ernest W. Brindle, pastor of the Hampton charge of the United Church of Christ, officiating. Interment in The Pines Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home in New Oxford Monday evening after 7 o'clock.

State Death Toll

Is Among Highest

Seven pedestrians were killed Christmas eve, swelling Pennsylvania's traffic death toll to at least 12—one of the highest in the nation—as the holiday passed the half-way mark.

Unlike last year, no one has died in fires or in other nonhighway accidents for the holiday period, from 6 p.m. Thursday until midnight Sunday.

Last Christmas 12 persons burned to death and two died in other accidents, in addition to the 28 traffic deaths.

In four of the pedestrian accidents, the drivers didn't stop.

Cumberland Twp. Gets U. S. Funds

WASHINGTON—The Urban Renewal Administration approved a $3,950 grant to Cumberland Twp. for preparation of a community growth plan.

The money will be used with $4,040 of local and state money for a study of the community.

"An important aim of the project," the government agency said, "is to help the township deal effectively with special problems related to the Gettysburg Battlefield National Park and to prevent the formation of slums and blight resulting from incompatible land use."

PRESIDENT VISITS WITH SON'S FAMILY HERE TODAY

President Eisenhower drove to Gettysburg today for a short Christmas visit with his grandchildren. He left by automobile about 8:15 a.m. and was expected to return to the White House within a few hours.

The President arrived at his own farm home here at 9:50 a.m. and spent a half hour or more there before going to the nearby home of Major and Mrs. John Eisenhower. The First Lady did not accompany the President on the trip here today.

White House sources said the President had hoped to make his Christmas visit to the children Friday but was unable to do so because of ice-coated highways.

Leaves Sunday For South

Anne Wheaton, associate press secretary, said that in view of Eisenhower's plan to leave Sunday for a vacation in Augusta, Ga., "it seemed the logical thing to do."

She said the President planned to spend only about an hour with his grandchildren—whom he has not seen since he left December 3 on his long goodwill tour.

The four grandchildren—David, 10; Barbara Anne, 9; Susan, 8, and Mary Jean, 4, are with their parents, Maj. and Mrs. John Eisenhower, at the younger Eisenhower's home near the President's farm.

REV. PARR'S MOTHER DIES

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Hunter, 71, died Friday at Warner Hospital at 6:55 a.m. of complications resulting from a heart disorder. She had been a patient at the hospital for more than three months.

The deceased was born September 8, 1888, in Sharpstown, the daughter of the late Luke and Sarah (Coleman) Westcott. She was the widow of Hector Hunter and had resided with a daughter, the Rev. Lena Parr, 269 S. Washington St., for the last two years.

Mrs. Hunter was a life-long member of the John Wesley AME Church of Zion, Chambersburg, and a member of the Stewardess Board of the church. She is survived by a second daughter, Mrs. Ellen Jones, Washington, D. C.; four grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren; two brothers, Samuel Westcott, Chambersburg; Alexander Westcott, Scotland, Pa.; a sister, Miss Nannie Westcott, a Scotlar, and a number of nephews and nieces.

Funeral services Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Barbour Funeral Home, Chambersburg, the Rev. C. J. Covington and the Rev. J. J. Robinson officiating. Interment in Lebanon Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

UNDERTAKER'S WIDOW DIES ON CHRISTMAS

Mrs. Pearl B. Routsong, 80, of Bendersville, widow of W. O. Routsong, who was an undertaker in Bendersville for many years, died early Christmas morning at the Wolford Bible Convalescent Home, near Fountaindale, after an extended illness. She had been a patient at the home for about eight weeks.

A native of Sharpsburg, Md., she was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Dulaney. She moved to Adams County when she was 15 and resided in the county since that time.

She was a member of the Bethlehem Lutheran Church, Bendersville, and of the Women's Bible Class of that church.

Services Tuesday

Surviving are four children: Mrs. Maurice Dugan, Bendersville; William O. Routsong Jr., Bendersville; Mrs. Albert Rose, York, and LeRoy S. Routsong, Bendersville.

Also surviving are nine grandchildren, three great-grandchildren; a brother, Byrd Dulaney, and a sister, Mrs. Norman Wilson, both of Sharpsburg.

Funeral services Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock from the Dugan Funeral Home, Bendersville, with the Rev. Dr. O. D. Coble, her pastor, officiating. Interment in the Bendersville Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home in Bendersville Monday.

The following self-explanatory lead editorial was published recently in The Rome Sentinel, of Rome, N. Y.:

The campaign to preserve "sacred grounds" at Gettysburg Battlefield from being overrun by hot dog stands, souvenir shops, shopping centers and residential subdivisions is now nationwide.

Cliff Arquette, the Charley Weaver of TV fame and a resident of Gettysburg, Pa., made his first coast-to-coast appeal for Save-the-Battlefield Dollars Tuesday night on the Jack Paar show.

Mr. Arquette is campaign chairman for the Gettysburg Battlefield Preservation Association of which Fritz S. Udkie, the editor of this newspaper, is a member of the executive committee. President of the association is Major William M. Haller, Combat Engineers, U.S. Army, Fort George G. Meade, Md. The treasurer is Dr. Robert L. Bloom of the faculty of Gettysburg College.

Mr. Arquette said, "I'm out to raise a million dollars to save these sacred lands and I'm going to do it." He appealed for dollars to be sent to Battlefield, Gettysburg, Pa., the givers to receive deeds to one square inch of the land to be purchased by the association and presented to the National Park Service.

The association was conceived last August by members of a Civil War Study Group in session at Gettysburg College. They were informed by Dr. Frederick Tilberg, Gettysburg National Battlefield Park historian, that large areas of land were in danger of being lost to the battlefield area. This is privately-owned land at strategic (Continued On Page 3)

George P. Ackerson, 24 Barlow St., retired state policeman and member of the board of directors of the Gettysburg Elks lodge, was fatally injured about 5 o'clock Christmas Eve in an auto crash while driving home from work at York.

Ackerson and a York man, Norman LeRoy Bates, 29, were both instantly killed when their cars collided six miles west of West York on the Lincoln Highway near Thomasville.

Funeral services for the 47-year-old armored car guard will be held Monday morning with a meeting at 8:15 o'clock at the Peters Funeral Home, Carlisle St., to go to St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church for a requiem mass at 9 o'clock at which the Rev. Fr. Anthony F. Kane will officiate.

Interment will be in the church cemetery.

Friends may visit at the funeral home on Carlisle St. Sunday evening after 7 o'clock. The Elks will meet at the Elks Home, York St., at 7 o'clock to go as a group to the funeral home. The family has asked that flowers be omitted.

Was En Route Home

Ackerson, a retired Pennsylvania state policeman, was employed by the Protective Motor Service Co., Inc., of York as a guard on an armored car. He had completed his work Christmas Eve about 5 o'clock and was en route home when the accident causing his death occurred near Thomasville.

State police at York said Ackerson was driving west on the three-lane highway when he sought to pass another westbound car operated by Mrs. Ottilie L. Weaver, 60, 231 M St., Littlestown.

His car apparently skidded on the slippery middle lane and entered the eastbound lane in the path of an auto operated by Norman LeRoy Bates, 29, of York. After the impact between the Bates and Ackerson cars, Ackerson's sedan bounced back into the car of Mrs. Weaver.

Killed Instantly

The York County coroner, Dr. Thomas M. Hart, said Ackerson died instantly of a broken neck and fractured skull.

Bates also died instantly of a broken neck, broken arm and fractured thigh.

Mrs. Weaver suffered possible back and neck injuries, but did not seek medical treatment until her arrival home in Littlestown.

York state police said ten minutes after the three-car accident, while ambulance attendants were seeking to remove Ackerson and Bates from the tangled wreckage of their demolished cars, a car operated by James L. Boyle, 47, York, sideswiped the Ackerson car. Damage was estimated at $150 to Ackerson's car, $400 to Barr's vehicle, $300 to Mrs. Weaver's car and $200 to Boyle's auto.

Retired 6 Months Ago

Ackerson had served with the Pennsylvania state police for many years, retiring about six months ago. He had been vehicle inspection station inspector for Adams and Northern York County at the time of his retirement.

He secured employment as a guard with the York armored car firm upon his retirement from the police.

In the 1959 primary he was a candidate for county commissioner, and was well known throughout the county. He was a member of the board of directors of the local Elks Lodge and was a member of the local Moose Lodge. He was a member of St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church here.

A native of Scranton, he was born April 24, 1912, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Ackerson. Surviving are his wife, the former Amelia Brady; a daughter, Georgianna, at home; a stepmother, Mrs. Julia Ackerson, Ellysburg; a brother, Francis Ackerson, and two stepbrothers.

Eichelberger Fund Helps Needy Here

The Stahle-Eichelberger fund of Gettysburg borough council brought $243 worth of Christmas gifts for needy people of the community.

Mahlon P. Hartzell, councilman in charge of the fund, said $258 was available from interest on the fund established by contributions of wealthy Gettysburgians a number of years ago.

Hartzell said he secured the cooperation of Public Assistance board to investigate needs in the borough and then provided orders totaling $243 for fuel, clothing and food for several families plus assistance with the rent for one widow.

CHIMNEY FIRE

Fairfield firemen were called Christmas eve to a chimney fire at the home of John Neary.

Christmas merchandise in both hotel and S. Washington St. shops reduced one-third for clearance. Excellent values. Wayside Flower Shop.

WILLIAM LINGG DIES FRIDAY

William Joseph Daniel Lingg, 48, Emmitsburg, R. 2, died at his home Friday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock. He was the son of the late Felix Henry and Rosaline (Browner) Lingg and a life-long resident of Emmitsburg.

The deceased was a member of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Emmitsburg, and a member of the Holy Name Society. He had been employed by the Gettysburg Furniture Company as a cabinet-maker for 32 years.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Gladys (Herring) Lingg, and two sons, Francis Joseph and Paul Dennis Lingg, at home. In addition, 10 brothers and sisters survive: Charles Lingg, Mrs. Joseph Little, Mrs. Vaughn Eyer, Mrs. Glenn Schlitz and Felix H. Lingg Jr., all of Thurmont; John Lingg, Washington, D. C.; James Lingg and Mrs. Gilbert Eiker, both of Emmitsburg; Mrs. William Stultz, Fairfield, and Mrs. Lucy Corbin, York.

Requiem mass at St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Emmitsburg, at 10 a.m. Wednesday. The Rev. James Twomey officiating, after a 9:30 a.m. meeting at the Wilson Funeral Home, Emmitsburg. Interment in the new St. Joseph's Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday evening between 7 and 9 o'clock. The rosary will be recited at 8 o'clock.

Wedding

Richardson-Jones

Miss Frances "Joanne" Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John "Nick" Jones, Gettysburg, became the bride of Sgt. Bennett D. Richardson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Granville R. Richardson, Chambersburg, last Saturday at 4 o'clock in the Prince of Peace Episcopal Church. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. Harold Mowen.

John Pines, Harrisburg, soloist, was accompanied at the organ by his brother, Leon, Philadelphia.

The bride given in marriage by her father, was attended by Miss Harriet Carter, Gettysburg, as maid of honor. Raymond Warren Richardson, brother of the groom, served as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride after which the couple left for a wedding trip to the Poconos.

The bride is a graduate of Gettysburg High School with the class of 1953, and attended Cheyney State Teachers College. She is employed at Mechanicsburg Navy Depot.

The groom is a sergeant in the United States Army and is making a career of the service.

Film Industry Slump Traced To Varied Woes, Future Dim

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—What will the 1960s bring the movie industry? I asked a number of Hollywood's more articulate spokesmen.

"Hollywood will have to follow the reforestation plan of Theodore Roosevelt," said producer Jerry Wald. "He decreed that the loggers had to plant three trees for every one they cut down. The movie industry has neglected building new talent, and it is paying for it."

"First, John Wayne got $633,000 then William Holden wanted $750,000. Then Liz Taylor got a million. The next deal will be a million and a half. It's getting disastrous. We've got to build new names."

George Seaton believes a return to block-bookings will help cure studio ills. That was the old system of selling films in large blocks, a practice the government outlawed. Now there are indications the ban may be repealed.

"Then the studio will be sure of a return for its investment," Seaton argued. "It will know that theaters will buy the routine pictures as well as the hits. The studio could then afford to build up contract list of players and create new stars."

"Too Many Pictures" Samuel Goldwyn has long argued that too many pictures are being made. Seaton agrees that there will be less films in the 60s and fewer theaters.

But Walter Wanger sees a rise in the so-called art theater. "I think we will see an increase in the small theater with an appeal to the intelligent moviegoer," Wanger said.

What about pay-TV? "I don't know the mechanics of it," said Wanger. "But I think that it will wait until films can be seen in color on a larger screen set in the wall. I don't know how new movies will look on an 18 or 21-inch screen."

Seaton foresees pay-TV as an eventuality for the 60s—as a second run for new movies. "After a picture has played the big first-run houses," he theorized, "it will go on pay-TV at a lower price."

Calumet's Jones Is Pleased By Horses

MIAMI (AP) — Ben Jones, Calumet's general manager, has 14 young race horses schooling at Hialeah and he likes the way they're learning their lessons. "It's too early to guess what they can do," says the veteran trainer, "but I will say they look like one of the most promising crops." He wouldn't select any one yearling as the best.

But when asked to pose with one of them for a picture, Jones chose Beau Prince, a bay colt by Bull Lea from the Whirlaway mare Typhoon.

"SPREADING HAPPINESS"

If one stray listens to me . . . than I have done my part . . . to ease the pains that tend to plague . . . the depths of mankind's heart . . . if just a line, or word, hits home . . . my pen has served me well . . . and the contentment that I feel . . . is without parallel . . . if my verse helps someone to bear . . . the heavy loads of strife . . . a burst of brilliant sunlight . . . shines upon my life . . . or should I seal the bonds of love . . . or strengthen brotherhood . . . then I thank God for letting me . . . do these acts of good . . . there's joy in spreading happiness . . . and so it is I'll try . . . to paint the face of life with smiles . . . until the day I die.

ular seller. The popular dessert as made with a horse and treadmill for power. Later Hershey purchased the first gasoline engine in the area and was able to manufacture many gallons of his products to serve his many customers.

"The Clover Club"
The restaurant was first heated by a ten-plate stove, later the once extremely popular pot-bellied stove became the heating unit. Around this "furnace" men of the area gathered to swap yarns and tall tales and "gossip" too. They came to be known as "The Clover Club."

Hershey expanded his business constantly. He would drive to New Oxford in a horse and buggy, take a train to Baltimore and purchase tons of bananas, watermelons, cantaloupes, potatoes and other items. When the shipment arrived at New Oxford several days later Hershey engaged farmers to haul his cargo to York Springs.

Hershey was the first in the vicinity to sell meat and he opened the first telephone exchange in York Springs. Upon his death his daughter, Miss Edna Hershey, took over the management. She married Harold A. Smith who modernized the store in 1927 and operated it ever since until its closing this week.

Ambassador Given Audiences By Pope

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII today began traditional year-end audiences to receive the greetings of diplomats accredited to the Vatican.

Nearly 50 ambassadors and ministers are to call on the Pope. Those received today were the ambassadors of Austria, Lebanon, Panama, the Dominican Republic and Paraguay.

Vatican sources said the 78-year-old Roman Catholic pontiff celebrated a brief service in his private chapel Christmas night and later listened to Christmas phonograph records.

A decorated Christmas tree and the nativity scene were erected in his apartment for the festive season.

Four Terrorists Arrested Friday

HAVANA (AP) — Officials said today four terrorists who planned acts of sabotage against Prime Minister Fidel Castro were arrested Christmas Day.

Those detained were described as key figures in a group of more than 25 collecting arms for attacks on Castro's military forces and police in Havana. The prisoners said they had a large cache of arms, including rifles and sub-

IRAN BOLSTERS DEFENSE LINES

By JOSEPH DYNAN

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — New army detachments took up positions today at three frontier villages facing Iraq just north of Abadan to bolster Iranian defenses.

The reinforcements were ordered to guard against any Iraqi attack in Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassem' dispute with Iran over control of the frontier waterway at the head of the Persian Gulf.

The troops arrived at Fakkeh, Susangerd, and Mousaveian, according to reports received in the capital this morning. Their number was not disclosed.

The villagers voiced support for the Iranian government's policy and opposition to Kassem's claims of complete control over the Shatt el Arab River, the reports said. Iranian officials scanned nearby Iraqi villages through binoculars for signs of any counter-demonstrations but said they saw none.

The Iraqi news agency has denied Iranian reports of Iraqi troop concentrations on the frontier.

Cigarette Smoking Is Higher In 1959

NEW YORK (AP) — American smokers bought more cigarettes than ever before in 1959, despite the continued controversy over possible links between cancer and cigarettes, Printers' Ink magazine reported today.

The annual report of Harry M. Wooten, consultant on the tobacco industry, in the magazine estimates U.S. consumption at about 456 billion cigarettes, up 4.5 per cent from a little over 436 billion last year. Consumption per capita (15 years of age and over) rose to 188 packs (more than half a pack a day), a gain of 2 per cent over 1958 and 15 per cent over 10 years ago.

Educator Dies At Lock Haven State

LOCK HAVEN, Pa. (AP) — Carey E. March, 49, dean of men and a member of the science department faculty at Lock Haven State Teachers College, died Friday.

A night watchman found his body in the chemistry laboratory last night while checking to see why the lights were on.

The cause of death was not immediately determined. However, Dr. William C. Long, of Lock Haven, said a preliminary examination showed March probably died of a heart attack.

Adjourn Trial Of Four Sergeants

IZMIR, Turkey (AP) — The trial of four American sergeants charged with violating Turkey's currency laws was adjourned today until Jan. 19.

The 10th session of the trial which began last August lasted five minutes.

It was adjourned when financial experts, summoned to give an opinion on the seized correspondence of one of the sergeants, reported that their study is not yet completed.

The accused are Army M/Sgt. Dale McCuiston, Van Nuys, Calif.; and Air Force sgts. James King, Lawrence, Miss.; Joe Proietti, Mount Kisco, N. Y.; and Jack Recevuta, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Skindivers Uncover A Freak Accident

SEASIDE HEIGHTS, N. J. (AP) — A 20th Century plane crashed into a 19th Century ship but the accident went undiscovered for years.

Skin divers came upon the wreckage while searching the ocean floor above five miles off the coast.

Cradled among the corroded wooden timbers of a sunken commercial vessel of the 1890s was the wreckage of a small aircraft of the type used for training at the beginning of World War II.

The plane had apparently crashed almost 20 years ago in exactly the same place where the ocean swallowed the old ship in the late 19th Century.

Stork's Visit No Problem For Golfer

LOCKPORT, N. Y. (AP) — When Dr. Frank Crosby was called from a father-son golf tournament to deliver a baby, Lockport Country Club officials permitted the doctor's wife, Peggy, to play the next hole with their son, David.

Dr. Crosby, meanwhile, went to the hospital, delivered the baby, and was back in time to take over on the next hole and finish the match.

points where significant action occurred, land which until now has been farm fields but which is being sought for commercial expansion.

Among the areas the association will purchase and give to the federal government is that near where the 9th New York Volunteers, an Oneida-Lewis County regiment raised in Boonville, fought on the first day at Gettysburg, and land over which Confederates troops advanced under General Pickett in the famous third-day charge.

The federal government owns strips of land in these areas, mainly park roadways along which monuments and markers have been placed. It does not at this time have possession of the lands on either sides of the roadways. Commercial development would spoil sectors of great historic value to posterity.

The only way in which the battlefield can be preserved for future generations—more than 800,000 persons visit Gettysburg each year—is through funds raised by the general public. Those who assist in this project will have the satisfaction of knowing they are helping to preserve and protect one of our nation's most cherished patriotic shrines.

CINDER TRUCK STRUCK BY CAR

Damage totaled $300 when a car smashed into the rear of a cinder-truck Thursday night six miles south of here on the Emmitsburg Rd.

State police said Alphonsus J. Pecher, 37, Fairfield R. 2, had halted the truck to begin cinder-ing operations when a car being driven north by Paul Jerome Sutton, 52, Emmitsburg R. 1, skidded into the rear of the vehicle. Damage was estimated at $50 to the truck and $250 to car car. No one was injured.

Damage was estimated at $300 when a car operated by G. E. Hoak, Gettysburg R. 2, skidded three miles west of here Thursday evening at 10:30 o'clock on the Knoxlyn Rd. and rolled over. Hoak was uninjured.

Two York women were treated at the Warner Hospital Thursday for injuries received in an auto accident. No details were available on the crash. The women were Pauline Rager, 51, who suffered lacerations of the right forearm and right lower leg, and Eva M. Peters, 52, who had contusions of the right shoulder and chest.

Giant Rubber Bands Perform Big Tasks

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — How far will a rubber band stretch? Giant versions, which look like the ordinary office rubber band, but are six feet long, are now being used in industry warehouses and shipping rooms, reports President Clyde O. DeLong of B. F. Goodrich Industrial Products Co. They will stretch 18 feet.

The king-size bands were developed to hold cartons together in stacks so they won't slip or tumble when being loaded, DeLong says.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

TEN YEARS AGO
Klunk Plans Restoration Of Bandwagon: The Democratic party — in the person of County Chairman Fred G. Klunk — today announced plans to rescue its long lost bandwagon.

The wagon, forgotten for years, was found stored in the basement of the court house. It was in an unfinished and unused room. So no one ever bothered about it until the commissioners decided to renovate the room and use it for various purposes.

Then the wagon was found. Once the proud vehicle carried a cannon in Democratic parades. Chairman Klunk plans to remove it from the cellar of the court house for future use. As Chairman Klunk expressed it: "We can at least put the Democratic bandwagon back on the ground level after so many years of being practically interred."

After the wagon has been disassembled, removed from the basement and reassembled, it will be offered to the Adams County Sesquicentennial committee for use in promoting the observance of the county's 150th anniversary.

Masonic Heads Assume Duties
December 27th: New officers of Good Samaritan Lodge No. 336, F. and A.M., elected December 8, will assume their duties beginning St. John's Day Dinner of the Masonic lodge will be held Tuesday evening, December 27, at 7 p.m. at the Hotel Gettysburg.

The officers are: Master, Dr. George R. Miller; senior warden, John V. Hawbecker; junior warden, Kenneth W. Johns; treasurer, Charles W. Myers; secretary, W. Preston Hull; trustees, Arthur E. Hutchison, Dr. Lloyd C. Keefe and Judge W. C. Sheely.

Representatives to the grand lodge, W. P. Hull; senior deacon, Walter M. Frederick; junior deacon, Paul G. Pensinger; senior master of ceremonies, Donald C. Bushey; junior master of ceremonies, Paul A. LeGore; pursuivant, Radford H. Lippy; tyler, John L. Bower.

Richard R. Higginbotham will be the toastmaster for the banquet program. The invocation will be given by the Rev. Dr. Howard S. Fox. The address will be presented by the Rev. H. Walter Weber, York.

Winter Opens With 47-Yr. Heat Record: A 47-year heat record was set here Thursday, the first full day of winter when the mercury soared to 66 degrees in the afternoon — five degrees above the highest previous temperature recorded here on any December 22.

The nearest approach to Thursday's record was on December 22, 1923 and the same date in 1933 when the high readings were 58 degrees.

Last year the temperatures for December 22 ranged between a more conventional 29 and 45 degrees.

Continuous local weather records that start in 1903 show that temperatures above the 60-degree mark are not rare in December but never have occurred this late in the month.

Ray M. Culp Elected Head Of Sportsmen: Ray M. Culp, Carlisle street, was elected president of the Gettysburg Sportsmen's association Wednesday evening at a meeting of the unit held in the organization's home on Wainwright avenue. Culp served as first president of the association two years ago.

New Record Set At Local Post Office: The current Christmas rush is breaking all previous records at the Gettysburg post office. Postmaster Lawrence E. Oylor revealed today.

With the peak period for outgoing mail already past, Postmaster Oylor said that machine cancellations of letter mail during the six day period from December 16 to the close of business Wednesday totaled 206,900 compared with 201,670 in the comparable period last year.

Today's Talk

WASTE NO STROKES
One of the most interesting studies in this world is a "great" man or woman. I have known a great many of them intimately and have become acquainted with many. As have you. About the first thing you notice is that he or she is about the same in looks as anybody else. Each differs from the ordinary in not being ordinary. But the most characteristic thing about either is that he—or she—wastes no strokes. Each works simply. And to the point.

If one is a business man, he gives the handling and working out of details to others. Though he always remains master of them, himself. His mind grasps quickly, and it travels far. Go into his office and you see his desk clean. He has time to think. The great man concentrates. He does one thing and then passes quickly to the next. For there always is a "next one" to the man of action. Waste is a product of misdirection.

Note the expert golfer. In golf, it is not the power put into the stroke, half as much as in the way the stroke is executed, that gives the long distance to the ball. Take your time. Think out carefully, in advance, the thing you want to see done. Then DO it without wasting any strokes.

It takes courage to be big. The beginning process is always slow. Sometimes it is a long wait. Lincoln once said he knew his time would come, so he determined to keep preparing for it so he would be ready.

Be patient. Be strong. Be willing. Be helpful. Waste no strokes. Your turn will then come—soon enough.

THE SAND MAN
The Sand Man is a funny chap. Who makes you want to take a nap.

And my Pa says he knows him well. But what he looks like I can't tell. Coz when my Pa says, "Howdy Do."

And, Mr Sandman, how are you? I rub my eyes a bit and stare. And there ain't no one standin' there.

It is a funny thing to me. That I can't see what Pa can see.

Sometimes Pa takes us for a ride. And I am sittin' by his side. And lookin' at the stars and things.

Which every evening always brings.

And Pa says: "Well, I guess we'll meet."

The Sand Man further down the street.

Right now he ought to be in sight; He's due about this time of night; He should be waiting somewhere near.

I thought I'd pick him up right here."

We go along a block or two.

And then Pa says: "Well, howdy do;

Climb in, without a word or fuss, We'll ride you into town with us."

And Pa and he sit there and chat, Discussin' this and arguin' that.

But I can't tell you what is said, Coz when I wake up I'm in bed.

It is a funny thing to me. Why I can't see what Pa can see.

New Tanker Has Radio Telephone

MARCUS HOOK, Pa. (AP) — One of America's newest tankers has been equipped with the latest navigation safety device—ship-to-ship radio telephone.

The equipment, installed on the Sun Oil Company's SS Pennsylvania, permits continuous, instantaneous communication between the bridges of ships within 10 miles of each other.

The telephone system, Sun Oil announced, is the first single-channel bridge-to-bridge equipment installed on any vessel. Seven other Sun Oil tankers also will get the equipment.

The system is designed particularly for use on the busy Delaware River, as a device to avoid collision by giving exact locations during travel in bad weather.

In addition to the machine cancellations there were an estimated 9,000 hand cancellations.

Claims County Fruit Outlook Is Best In U.S.: Because of the large number of young trees coming into production, and the varieties, Adams county's fruit industry is on a sounder basis than any other single producing center in the United States, M. E. Knouse, president of Knouse Foods Cooperative, Peach Glen, told the Adams County Bankers association at its regular meeting Wednesday night at the Shetter house.

Half Of County Pupils Ride 3,091 Miles A Day In 65 Buses At A Cost Of $144,198 A Year: Approximately half of Adams county's school children ride buses to and from school each day. The distances traveled by the buses is 3,091 miles daily and the cost of the transportation system to date, $136,198.49 per year.

A Bit Of History About Early Settlers

By B. F. M. MacPHERSON

The Neely Family

The next grave to be considered in the historical and genealogical study of the Round Hill Presbyterian graveyard is that of the wife of one of the pioneer ministers—a woman whose life must have witnessed many stirring events—among others the French and Indian wars and the War of the American Revolution. The inscription from the marker at the grave of Eliza R. Martin, wife of the Rev. James Martin, is as follows:

1. "In memory of/ Eliza R./ wife of/ Rev. James Martin/ Died September 14, 1804/ Aged 61 years."

In the year, 1786, the Presbytery of Donegal was divided into two Presbyteries, one of which was to consist of the Revs. John Stemmmons, James Hunt, Stephen Balch and Isaac Keith, with the Rev. Patrick Allison, from the late Second Presbytery of Philadelphia, and the Rev. George Luckey, from the Presbytery of New Castle, to be known by the name of the Presbytery of Baltimore—And the other to consist of Revs. Samuel Thomson, John Hoge, Hugh Macgill, Robert Cooper, James Martin, James Lang, John Craighead, John King, Hugh Vance, Thomas McFarrin, John McKnight, Dr. Robert Davidson, John Black, Samuel Douglas, John Linn, David Beard, Samuel Waugh, Joseph Henderson, Matthew Stephens and James Johnston, with the Revs. John Elder and Robert Mordie from the Second Presbytery of Philadelphia, to be known as the Presbytery of Carlisle.

Data On Minister
There is considerable data pertaining to the Rev. James Martin in the records of the Presbytery of Donegal and in 1793 these same records place the Rev. Martin in Northumberland County, Pa. He (Rev. Martin) served several Presbyterian congregations as supply before being called to Penn's Valley. This church was organized in 1776 and that same year made an application to the synod for supplies, but the valley was entirely abandoned during the winter of 1779-80 due to the war on the frontier and settlements were not resumed until the year 1784. The church history is blank until a call was made to the Rev. James Martin on April 15, 1789. At this time the charge consisted of the churches of East and West Penn's Valley, Warrior's Mark and Halfmoon. The Rev. James Martin accepted the call.

James Martin, pioneer Presbyterian minister, came to this country from County Down, Ireland, in 1774-75. On May 21, 1777, he appeared in synod as a member of Donegal Presbytery and, according to Dr. Gibson, was first settled at Piney Creek Presbyterian Church, near Taneytown, Md., in 1780 where he remained until 1789. He was called to the Penn's Valley churches in the latter year. After he moved to Penn's Valley the Rev. Martin settled on what was known at that time as the Musser Farm, located east of Penn Hall. The old log church was erected at this place. Here on April 14, 1795, the Presbytery of Huntingdon was organized and after that date the jurisdiction of the Presbytery of Carlisle over the frontier churches ceased.

Recall Traditions
Among the traditions pertaining to the Rev. James Martin, which are still remembered, are the following:—"The Rev. Martin's sermons were long, seldom less than an hour and a half, and sometimes considerably longer. On a warm summer day it was not unusual for him to take off his coat and preach in his shirt sleeves. In the pulpit he was very forgetful of himself and of his personal appearance. He would first take off his coat, then loosen his cravat, and conclude by taking off his wig, holding it in his hand, and shaking it in the face of the congregation.

"Mr. Martin died in the year 1795, the same year the Presbytery of Carlisle was organized, and the large marble slab that covers his grave, the first Presbyterian minister of Penn's Valley, keeps sentinel at the site of the old church property." The inscription from the stone at the grave of the Rev. James Martin reads as follows:—

"Here lies the body of/ the Rev. James Martin/ pastor of the first/ Presbyterian minister of Penn's Valley/ who died June 20, A.D. 1795/ Aged about 65 years."/ "Deep was the wound, Oh Death, and vastly wide, When he resigned his useful breath and died. Ye sacred tribes with pious sorrow mourn, And drop a tear at your dear pastor's urn.

"Concealed a moment from our longing eyes, Beneath this stone his mortal body lies: Happy the spirit lives, and will, we trust, In bliss associate with his pious dust."

Had Four Sons
Rev. James and Eliza Martin were the parents of four sons, namely, James Martin II, Samuel Martin, John Martin and Robert Martin. The names of their three daughters are not known but the eldest was married to Edward Bell, Esq., the second to Andrew Bell and the third to Judge John Stewart of Huntingdon County, Pennsylvania.

The question may well be asked—why is Eliza Martin, the wife of this early minister, buried at the old Round Hill Presbyterian—far from the grave of her husband? One thing is absolutely certain—She was either visiting or living in this section at the time of her death and was therefore buried in the nearest Presbyterian Churchyard. While the Rev. James Martin was the minister at Piney Creek he occasionally supplied the church at Lower Marsh Creek and he may also have preached at the Round Hill. Mrs. Martin may have had friends living in the vicinity of Round Hill, whom she was visiting at the time of her death. No matter the reason Eliza Martin is buried at the Round Hill Ground and her grave is well marked.

The next grave to be mentioned in this survey is that of Lovina Myers and the inscription, from the marker at her grave follows—

2. "Sacred to the memory of/ Lovina Myers/ Died October 3, 1883/ Aged 45 years, four months, and seven days."

Death Not Recorded
Note: Nothing is known pertaining to Lovina Myers—her death was not recorded in the local papers and apparently she left no property so there is nothing on file, of a legal nature, at the court house.

By far the greater number of marked graves in the Round Hill Presbyterian Graveyard are those of the Neely family. In fact at one time this burial ground was known as the "Neely Family Burying Ground at the Round Hill." A descendant of that family said this was due to the fact that "all the Neelys were buried there."

There are at least 11 marked graves in this family plot and quite a few without markers. It is a family tradition "that the left-hand top corner (looking up through the burial ground at the gate) from the cemetery entrance is filled with the graves of this family." In fact the last person buried at the Round Hill was Sadie Neely, the daughter of John Neely (1915).

Samuel Neely, the pioneer ancestor of the Neely family in this country, was one of five brothers, who came from County Tyrone, Ireland, about the year 1730. Samuel Neely located in what is Tyrone Twp., Adams County, Pennsylvania, not long after he arrived in this country. Samuel (I) Neely was twice married—but the names of his wives are not known.

MAKE CANDLES AT MORAVIAN YORK CHURCH

YORK, Pa. (AP)—The ancient art of candlemaking is being preserved as a traditional part of the Christmas observance at York's 208-year-old First Moravian Church.

Each year thousands of pure beeswax candles are prepared and decorated by the congregation. Some are used in the church's own Christmas Eve candlelight service. The others are sent to Moravian churches and missions in the States and abroad.

This year the 30 men and women who handle the work turned out 7,000 candles of varying sizes, some made from molds that are 200 years old or more.

500 Pounds Of Beeswax
The church gets its beeswax from a New York firm. This year it took 500 pounds to supply the congregation's needs.

The work of making candles, handled by the men's brotherhood, is started in July. The project is carried out at monthly meetings in the church hall until the supply is ready for the Christmas season. After the candles are finished, they are decorated by women of the church.

and Douglas, York St.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Hess, E. Baltimore St., will be Christmas Day dinner guests of Mrs. Hess' son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Miller, and Billy, Westminster.

Allen Baumgardner, a freshman at Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster, is spending the Christmas holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Baumgardner, Frederick St.

Mr. and Mrs. David Reifsnider, Keymar Rd., announce the birth of a son, David Michael, in Frederick Memorial Hospital December 16, Mrs. Reifsnider is the former Miss Vesta Null, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert J. Null, Baust Church Rd.

Mrs. Ernest Parker, R. 1, is a patient in the Waynesboro Hospital, Waynesboro.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Wentz, and son, Edgar, Lineboro, and Miss Mary Fringer, W. Baltimore St., will be Christmas Day guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hesson, E. Baltimore St.

President Delmar E. Riffe conducted a regular meeting of the Taneytown Lions Club Tuesday evening in Taney Inn, with Murray M. Baumgardner pronouncing the invocation, Homer Y. Myers leading a carol song and Harry I. Reindollar accompanying at the piano.

Guests of the president, Kilwanian Ned C. Musser, high school principal, related some caecses of need in the community which had come to his attention which were referred to the health and welfare committee. Lion Baumgardner also gave in interesting report on another opportunity to bring gladness at Christmas of a totally different nature.

The president received a report from David B. Shum, fruit cake chairman, stating that only five of 520 cakes remained on hand, and that the net from this activity would be some $400. The next gathering of Taneytown Lions will be Tuesday, January 12, when deputy district governor Harry B. Dougherty will have charge of the program.

A CHRISTMAS CAROL
Except For Santa Claus, No One Has Done More For Christmas Than Charles Dickens

Let's Look at the Record — By JIM DAN HILL, Ph.D., President, Wisconsin State College, Superior

THROUGH THE YULETIDE
every magazine, newspaper and broadcast is vibrant with the Christmas spirit.

Who started this annual deluge of Santa Claus literature? That would be hard to answer. Perhaps it was the wise men out of the East who told the first story or heard the first song.

But in the field of modern, December journalism, Charles Dickens appears to have been among the first to set the current style. Certainly Dickens has done more for Christmas and Christmas has done more for Dickens than for anyone since Santa Claus came out of the North.

IT MAY BE A SHOCK to mothers and fathers who scorn the comic books, but Charles Dickens, often proclaimed England's greatest novelist, achieved his first literary fame as the blurb writer of a Victorian ancestor to this extremely low form of literature. A famous cartoonist of that era wanted to associate himself with a bright young man who could provide the continuity and linguistic gusto for a "long series on a mythical 'Nimrod Club.'"

The sketches and narrative would appear weekly in one of the cheap London periodicals of the day. All of the situations, wheezes and conversation were to satirize the British huntmen who then infested the downs and moors of Merrie England.

Since Dickens knew nothing of hunting, he soon jumbled the series into a long, rambling, week-to-week, illustrated column concerning the friends, associates, travels, and odd situations of a bumbling, kindly old gentleman by the name of Pickwick. Thus the novel, "Pickwick Papers," was written and published in installments without any master plan and without anyone knowing, least of all the author, when or where it would end.

It was a huge success both as a serial and as a novel, with and without the caricatures of the famous cartoonist whose drawings were to have been the main attraction.

DICKENS TIMED the travels and adventures of Pickwick with the seasons. Hence, like the good journalist he truly was, he naturally brought Pickwick into a Christmas situation. The description of Mr. Wardle's Christmas party is still acclaimed by critics as unequalled for healthy charm, brilliant characterization and humorous description. It has been the inspiration for millions of Christmas cards by hundreds of unknown artists, some of whom perhaps never heard of Dickens, but who merely imitated those who had. This incident from Pickwick Papers may be considered a precursor of the little novelette or allegory, for which Dickens is most frequently mentioned today — "A Christmas Carol."

DICKENS WAS 31 years of age in October, 1843, when he first dipped a quill in the inkwell and began a long hand manuscript of a Christmas book.

It was to be a pot boiler for the Christmas trade. The schedule called for completion within a month, allowing time for printing in an appropriately thin volume with ornate and cheery binding. Dickens was so sure of its success he did not let his publishers handle it on the conventional royalty plan. He would own the book outright. He expected an immediate yield of over 1,000 pounds — something like $4,888 of extremely hard money with terrific purchasing power in the prices of that day.

Dickens had acquired an expensive wife with a retinue of relatives. His recent tour of America had been expensive. His sour essays on the American scene had hardly paid for the trip.

His most recent novel, "Martin Chuzzlewit," now read only for its American scenes, had been a flop. Dickens needed the money. He thought the Christmas spirit might do well by him.

THIS IS NO PLACE to attempt a literary evaluation of "A Christmas Carol." That job has been done many times by critics of far more competence than this reviewer.

Chesterton probably sums it up best with the statement: "... it really is a carol; in the sense of being short and direct and having the same chorus throughout."

Certain sections of it are so well adapted to oral readings that it becomes inescapable every Yuletide where English is spoken. Like the scenes from Mr. Wardle's Christmas party, it has been the inspiration for Christmas cards by hack artists who most likely never bothered to read the story.

Thus Dickens has been a part of every Christmas since 1843. He will most likely be present directly or indirectly throughout every Yuletide for many, many decades to come. The annual tide of seasonal songs, stories and narratives that he started rolls higher each year.

It is really too bad the little book did not net the full 1,000 pounds Dickens had hoped for that first season. His first check was far less than 300 pounds and left him still worried about his finances.

SUB CARLISLE CAFE MENTOR HAS TROUBLES

(First in a series of articles on prospects of South Penn Basketball League teams).

By BOB DUGAN
Evening Sentinel, Carlisle

CARLISLE — No one in the South Penn Conference can envy the job inherited by Jim Bowers as he takes over the head coaching reins of the 1959-60 District 33 basketball champions — Carlisle High School.

Bowers, who was junior varsity coach last year, assumes his duties at a time when Carlisle appears headed for an "off year" as far as Herd cage fortunes are concerned. He accepted a one-year "interim" appointment as Gene Evans was given a sabbatical leave to study at the University of Michigan.

Last year, the Herd thundered through its 21-game season without a setback, 16 of the victories coming in South Penn Conference competition. The Green and White then added two more triumphs over Central York and the York High Bearcats to gain District 33 laurels before bowing to Chester in the Eastern semifinals at Philadelphia.

Lack Size, Experience
Evans would be the first to admit that "the Herd had the 'hosses'" last year to attain championship heights. But the "hosses" have graduated and the "ponies" that are left provide Bowers with little experience — and even less size — to use in forming a worthy successor to the champs.

Returning from last year's squad are Joe Lins, 5-5 guard; Barry Rowe, 5-7 backcourt performer; and Dave Keller, 6-1, who saw little action last year as third-string center behind Paul Sollenberger and Mike Green. All other members of the title-winning combine have graduated.

Early-season games indicate that Carlisle will have an interesting team this year. The boys, lacking in size, run hard, use a pressing man-to-man defense to keep the enemy in check, and rely on shooting ability to offset the background advantage that nearly every opponent will have.

Two sophomores have been making a strong battle for starting roles along with Keller, Lins and Rowe, and if they continue to show improvement, the Herd will open South Penn play on January 5 with two 10th graders in the starting lineup.

The sophomores are Barry Debolt, 6-foot forward, who understudied John Darhower as T-quarterback on this year's football team, and Dave Lebo, another six-footer. Both these boys play last year on the junior high quintet which had a commendable 9-5 record.

Rowe, Lins Impressive
Rowe and Lins have been impressive in the pre-holiday games. Barry hit the cords for 27 points in a losing effort against John Harris and added 17 more as the Herd dropped their third game in four starts to York Catholic.

Carlisle opened its season at Susquehanna Township with an eight-point win and then lost successive starts to Harris, Central Dauphin and York Catholic.

Six boys who played jayvee ball for Bowers last year are members of the varsity squad but only

Parker 2nd High In Foul Shooting

Gettysburg College's basketball team has only a 3-5 record but statistics released by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau for games through December 19 reveal the Bullets are high in several categories.

Bob Parker, 19, Bullet sophomore playmaker, is second among the scorers in foul tossing. Parker has converted 31 of 32 tries. King of Idaho is the leader with 23 conversions in as many attempts.

Ron Warner, another sophomore, ranks 43rd in the average per game scoring with a mark of 21.3 with a total of 170 points. Oscar Robertson, Cincinnati, has the highest average of 42.2.

The hot-shooting Bullet squad is sixth among the 175 teams in field goal percentage shooting. The Bullets have netted 220 goals on 477 tries for a .461 average. Texas is the leader with a .546 average.

25 ELIGIBLE FOR ALUMNI COURT SQUAD

A group of 25 players has been declared eligible to play with the alumni basketball team which will oppose the Gettysburg High Warriors in the annual game Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

George C. Fair, chairman; Paul Ketterman Jr., and Bobby Rohrbaugh comprise the alumni committee in charge of the squad.

Those eligible are:
Class of 1956—John Coleman, Merle Gorman, Rolf Johnson, Peter Pennington, Richard Stough, Glenn Weishaar and William Woods.

Class of 1957—Jack Crist, Robert Hess, Thomas Kitzmiller, Richard Pyle, Jon Wagnild, John King and David Weikert.

Class of 1958—Francis Henderson, Kenneth Keefe, Earl Little, Kenneth Mummert, Joel Reaser, Sidney Steiner and Dan Reigle.

Class of 1959—Gary Maitland, Stanley Prosser, Tom Crist, Sidney Weikert.

All alumni players are asked to report at the high school gymnasium not later than Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock. All are also asked to bring their own equipment.

Immediately following the game the annual alumni-high school Christmas dance will be held in the school cafeteria.

one, Jack Afflebach, at 6-1, gives the club any height. Other former junior varsity courtmen are Larry Black, 5-8; Gary Heishman, 5-7; John Darhower, 5-10; Sam Padjen, 5-8, and John Carnes, 5-10.

The squad roster is completed, at present, by John McKnight, 5-11 junior, a new pupil; Ed Otto, 6-0 junior, and Nolan Moore, 5-11 sophomore, who played last year at Big Spring Junior High.

The reserve team, coached by Dave Heckler, who last year was junior high mentor, actually has more height than the varsity with three starters over the six-foot mark. Any one of the trio—George Painter, Dale Monismith and Craig Harbison—might be called up to the first string if they show the ability to supplant any of the present varsity squad.

No one envies Jim Bowers and the job that he has to do. Yet Bowers is determined to prove that Carlisle deserves consideration in the South Penn race, even though the "hosses" are gone and the "ponies" are small and inexperienced.

COLLEGE CAGE TOURNAMENTS START TODAY

By SHELTON SAKOWITZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

College basketball hits the tournament trail again today with five major classics.

Madison Square Garden will be the scene of the eighth ECAC holiday festival with Cincinnati, No. 1 team in the Associated Press rankings, the top attraction.

Municipal Auditorium in Kansas City will house the Big Eight tourney; the Far West classic will be in Corvallis, Ore. The Queen City tournament will be in Buffalo, N.Y., and the West Coast Athletic Conference will have its festival in San Francisco.

Evansville, Ind., also will conduct its tournament.

No games were played Christmas night.

Tourney At Garden
Here's the tournament line-up: ECAC Festival in New York — St. Joseph's, Pa. (5-1) vs. Manhattan (4-1); Iowa (6-1) vs. St. John's, N.Y. (5-2); NYU (5-0) vs. Dartmouth (2-0), and Cincinnati (6-1) vs. St. Bonaventure (3-2).

Big Eight Tournament in Kansas City — Kansas State (3-4) vs. Iowa State (4-2) and Colorado (4-3) vs. Nebraska (3-5).

Far West Classic in Corvallis, Ore. — Oregon State (5-1) vs. New Mexico State (2-2); Portland (4-2) vs. Idaho (2-7); Hawaii (2-7) vs. Washington State (5-4), and Oregon (6-1) vs. Denver (2-2).

Queen City Tournament in Buffalo, N.Y. — Boston College (2-5) vs. Wisconsin (2-5) and Pittsburgh (4-3) vs. Canisius (3-2).

WCAC Tournament in San Francisco — Los Angeles Loyola (4-2) vs. College of Pacific (5-3) and San Jose State (2-5) vs. San Francisco (1-7).

TAXI DRIVER IS SLAIN BY YOUNG WOMAN

NEW YORK (AP) — Patrolman Thomas Dunn heard the woman say over the telephone: "Do you know about a taxicab driver being killed on Lincoln Place? Well, that driver who was killed, I did it."

Replied Dunn: "Look, lady, this is Christmas. Stop fooling."

But Kathleen Perry, 19, wasn't fooling. She designated a street corner in Brooklyn where she could be picked up. She was there when a police car arrived, and she told him she shot cabbie Nathan Hyman, 36, in the head during a $13 holdup. She surrendered a .22-caliber revolver from which one shot had been fired.

First Christmas Drive
Hyman, driving on Christmas morning for the first time in his 36 years of hacking, picked up Mrs. Perry and a woman known only as Jerry.

Mrs. Perry said she shot Hyman as he sat at the wheel of his cab because he made a motion as if he were about to turn around. "I was nervous and the gun went off," she told police.

The young woman said she has been separated two years from her husband, who has custody of their child. She was charged with homicide. Police are looking for Jerry, whom Mrs. Perry termed a chance acquaintance.

AL KALINE IS AL'S SLUGGING CHAMP OF '59

BOSTON (AP) — Al Kaline of Detroit, runner-up in the batting race, beat out home run hitters Mickey Mantle, Harmon Killebrew and Rocky Colavito to win the American League slugging championship, the official 1959 statistics revealed today.

Kaline had 271 total bases in 511 times at bat for a slugging mark of .530. Washington's Killebrew was next with .516 followed by the Yanks' Mantle .514 and Cleveland's Colavito, .512. Killebrew and Colavito shared the home run crown with 42, Mantle hit 31 and Kaline 27.

Kaline, who batted .327 to finish only behind champion Harvey Kuenn of the Tigers, had 167 hits which also included 19 doubles and 2 triples. Slugging averages are computed by dividing the number of total bases by the total official at bats.

Twelve Intentional Walks
Kaline also drew the most intentional walks, 12. However, teammate Eddie Yost led in total bases on balls with 135. Only one of Yost's passes was intentional. Mantle struck out 126 times to lead in that department.

Minnie Minofo of Cleveland was hit by pitched balls 17 times and was the top target for the eighth time.

The Indians had the highest club slugging percentage, .408 and left the least number of men on base, 995. Detroit left the most on the sacks, 1,161.

BUFFALO WINS OVER AMERKS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Buffalo Bisons were deadlocked for third place with the Rochester Americans in the American Hockey League today thanks to the acrobatics of goalie Roy Edwards.

The Bisons spotted the Amerks a goal but came back to post a 6-1 victory Friday night.

But the Amerks didn't go down easily. They peppered Edwards with 36 shots. Only one of them got by him. A straight-in blast by Bobby Nevin in the first period.

From then on, Edwards was the master of the situation. In the last two periods, he turned away 28 shots by the Amerks. At least half of them were tough.

The first place Springfield Indians lengthened their lead to 9 points by blanking the Providence Reds, 2-0. The shutout was goalie Gump Worsley's third in his 13 games with Springfield.

Sports In Brief

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) — Santa Anita opens its 55-day winter meeting today with silver and gold.

Silver for its 25th anniversary. Gold for 31 stakes scheduled for an estimated $3,460,000 during the meeting, which ends March 10.

If the weather holds up, more than 50,000 are expected to see three of California's greatest colts and several proven favorites.

The California trio — Warfare, Noble Noor and T. V. Lark—is entered in the $25,000 added California Breeders Trial Stakes at seven furlongs for 2-year-olds. All three have won $100,000 races.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Full-back Ray Smith of UCLA has been lost to the West squad for the Shrine game Jan. 2 because of a pulled leg muscle. Jim Welch of Southern Methodist will replace him.

Smith injured his right leg in morning practice at Stanford Friday. He may make a token appearance in the charity game.

The East team also suffered a casualty when Clemson tackle Lou Cordileone was hospitalized with a heavy cold and fever. The 245-pounder, heaviest man on the squad, is expected to be all right in time to play.

Gobrecht Will Aid At Dickinson

Wilbur Gobrecht, who in six years led the Littlestown High School football teams to three Laurel Conference titles and one co-championship, has submitted his resignation to become an assistant coach at Dickinson College, Carlisle.

Gobrecht, who graduated from Dickinson in 1952, will assume his new duties next fall. He will also be an instructor in physical education and possibly coach another sport.

While at Littlestown, Gobrecht's teams won 42, lost 10 and tied two.

CELTICS NEAR NBA RECORD

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The magic number for the Boston Celtics today was three.

Just three more victories and the red-hot Celts will tie the all-time National Basketball Assn. consecutive victory record of 17. It was set during the 1946-47 season by the Washington Capitols, no longer in existence.

The Celtics recorded their 14th straight triumph Friday night, a 123-119 decision over the New York Knickerbockers, and in the process, they stretched their Eastern Division lead to seven games.

Caught Fire Late
In other games, the St. Louis Hawks lengthened their Western Division margin to seven games with a 112-96 triumph over the Minneapolis Lakers; the Cincinnati Royals turned back the Detroit Pistons 121-103 and the Philadelphia Warriors downed the Syracuse Nationals 129-121.

The Celtics trailed by as much as 21 points in the first half, but they caught fire and pulled to 103-111 in the final period. Then they scored 14 straight points to go ahead for good. Sam Jones, who scored 27 points, was high man for the winners.

The Hawks are rolling along on a winning streak of six games. Cliff Hagan, who styried Laker star Elgin Baylor, led the Hawks with 32 points.

Cincinnati snapped a six-game losing streak to halt the Pistons. Arlen Bookhorn had 27 points and Jack Twyman 23 for the Royals.

Wilt Chamberlain, Warrior ace, poured in 45 points to lead his team against Syracuse.

Mat Tourney At Boiling Springs

Eight Pennsylvania high schools will send representatives to the wrestling tournament at Boiling Springs High School, sponsored by the Boiling Springs Lions Club, Monday and Tuesday.

Preliminary matches will begin Monday at 7 p.m. followed by the quarterfinals Tuesday at 1 p.m. and the semifinals and championship events. Tuesday evening at 6:30.

School participating in addition to the host school include Bedford, Bellefonte, Easton, Hershey, Manheim Central, Pennsburg and Shamokin.

NATIONALS ARE PICKED IN COPPER BOWL

TEMPE, Ariz. (AP)—What do you prefer in a football team — speed or weight? That's the choice today when the National all-stars meet the Southwest all-stars in the second annual Copper Bowl game at Tempe.

The Nationals, coached by Don Clark of the University of Southern California and Rip Engle of Penn State, boast a set of fleet backs and a rugged, mobile line.

The Southwesters, guided by Ben Martin of the Air Force Academy and Frank Kush of Arizona State, will depend on a big weight advantage, depth and a defensive backfield described by coaches as "tremendous."

The odds-makers prefer the speed and have installed the Nationals as one-touchdown favorites for the nationally televised game (CBS, 1:30 p.m. MST).

The Southwest team, selected from the Big Eight, Southwest, Border, Rocky Mountain and Skyline conferences, were underdogs last year also but rode the passing of Texas Tech's Jerry Bell to a 22-13 victory.

This time, however, the Southwesters will have to crack a line anchored by Bill Burrell, All-America guard from Illinois; Chuck Janarete, Penn State's 234-pound tackle; Ron Mix, Southern Cal tackle, and Indiana guard Elvin Caldwell.

The bulky Southwest line also faces a major task in halting a backfield with such speedsters as Angelo Coia, USC; Willie West, Oregon and Clyde Washington, Purdue.

RANGERS CLIP RED WINGS 5-2

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A week ago, Brian Cullen was a bench warmer on the New York Rangers.

Today, he's an ex-bench warmer. The Rangers have won two of their last three games with Cullen at left wing, including Friday night's 5-2 decision over the Detroit Red Wings.

Cullen, whom the Rangers obtained from the Toronto Maple Leafs before the season got underway, scored two goals in 16 seconds in the final period.

As it turned out, they were icing on the cake. Going into the final period, the Rangers were protecting a 3-2 edge. But Cullen drilled one goal home at 5:40 and another at 5:56. That finished the Wings.

The victory marked the Rangers' first of the season in Detroit and pulled them within one point of fifth-place Chicago which took a 5-1 pasting from Boston in the only other game of Christmas night.

Good Weather For Blue-Gray Game

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — A sympathetic weatherman promised sunny skies and temperatures in the 60s for today's Blue-Gray game despite a rainy Christmas.

The forecast brightened the prospect of a wide-open passing game on both ends of the field. Southern all-stars, who have won 13 of the 20 preceding contests, were given a 4½-point edge over their rivals from the North. But Blue-Gray fans remembered that the Rebels were favored last year, too, when the North won 16-0.

The South's offense was built around the passing arms of Charlie Minstead of Texas A&M and Harvey White of Clemson, with second-string All - America end Carroll Dale of Virginia Tech as one of the receivers.

NORTH-SOUTH GAME TONIGHT

By WHITNEY MARTIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The South all-star team will stack its defense to stop Army's lonely end, Bill Carpenter, in the 12th annual Shrine game against the North in the Orange Bowl tonight, but coach Wade Walker isn't sure the tactic will be successful. "Particularly with Joe Caldwell, also of Army, throwing the ball," says the Mississippi State strategist.

"Ace Parker, the Duke backfield coach, said this guy Caldwell is the best he's seen."

To add to Walker's concern, Army coach Dale Hall, in charge of the North squad, remarked that Caldwell had started 18 games for the Cadets and had only one bad day—this year against Navy.

Despite Walker's concern, however, the South is a two - point favorite over the heavier North squad. It is figured in some quarters the Dixie athletes have more all-around speed, and will be able to make yardage on the ground if their own classy passers fail to click.

In addition to Caldwell, the north has an excellent tosser in Pete Hall of Marquette, but the South has three men who can throw the ball expertly. Fran Curci of Miami, a diminutive southpaw who will start at quarterback, shattered every passing record of his school. Jack Cummings of North Carolina rates right along with Curci, and Joe Tranchini of Navy also can throw the ball with anybody.

FAVOR COLTS TO BEAT GIANTS FOR NFL TITLE

By GEORGE BOWEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Colts feel they will have proved a point in vain if they don't beat the New York Giants Sunday for the championship of the National Football League. The game will be at Memorial Stadium here and will be televised in 44 states (NBC, 2:05 p.m., EST).

"Victory against the New York Giants is important, not only financially to all of us, but also for our self-respect," said Colts safetyman Carl Taseff.

"The battle has been all uphill. If the Giants knock us back, then much of what we have worked so hard to attain will go up in smoke."

Classic Last Year

The Colts, winner of last year's game 23-17 overtime classic in New York, have had the advantage of practicing all week on the field. The ground is in good shape. Both the Giants and Colts had two weeks off to prepare for the championship contest and it provided time for injuries to such as fullback Alan Ameche of the Colts and halfback Alex Webster of the Giants to heal.

Last year, the Giants had to go through a bruising playoff game with the Cleveland Browns the week before colliding with the Colts.

Favor Colts

Coach Jim Lee Howell of the Colts has said this will make a lot of difference this time. In fact, he and several of the players have simply brimmed over with confident comments.

The Colts attitude has been more of determination as expressed by Taseff, "We are a dedicated football team."

The gamblers have chosen to stick with the Colts by making them 3½ point favorites.

CAGE CLASSIC AT HARRISBURG

Large crowds are expected to attend the two-day Keystone Holiday classic basketball double-headers, sponsored by the Zembo Temple, in the State Farm Show arena, Harrisburg, Monday and Tuesday evenings.

Penn will oppose Duquesne in the opening game Monday at 7:45 while Temple meets Penn State in the second game. The winners will clash for the title in the second game Tuesday evening while the losers tangle in Tuesday's opener.

The proceeds will be used for underprivileged children in a nine-county area, including Adams County.

Between games Monday evening the Shrine 60-piece band will present a concert.

Reserved seats are $2.50 and general admission $1.

NAGY TO GIVE 2 EXHIBITIONS AT EDGEWOOD

Steve Nagy of the Brunswick advisory staff, who will appear in a special bowling exhibition scheduled for 2 and 8:30 p.m. Monday at the formal opening of Edgewood Lanes, Emmitsburg Rd., is one of the ablest instructors in the game.

A veteran of over 30 years in tournament competition, Steve is the type of champion who is never too busy to help other bowlers iron out their style of play.

In his appearance here, the husky kegler will demonstrate a winning form that has earned him two "Bowler of the Year" awards and a stack of national titles. In 1958 Nagy led the St. Louis Falstaffs to team championships in the ABC tournament and the grueling BPAA national match game event.

Nagy is at his best under match game pressure. He is most proud of his 1955 national match game victory that forced him, first into a qualifying round roll-off and then into a final four-game "must" situation. He exploded with a 236 average to sweep the set and capture the title.

His performance in the 1952 ABC tournament was equally spectacular. After winning a share of the doubles crown with Johnny Klare on a record 1,453 total, Nagy helped boost the Cleveland Radiants to the team all-events title and rolled himself into the individual all-events championship.

He has a five-year league average of 205, a top series of 831 and has rolled 25 300 games.

SPACEMEN TO GET HOTFOOT ON VENUS VISIT

By ALTON BLAKESLEE

Associated Press Science Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — Spacemen visiting Venus would literally jump into a frying pan, a scientist reported today.

For radio signals coming from Venus indicate it has a surface temperature of 565 degrees Fahrenheit—too hot for any life to exist, or for any water.

Similar eavesdropping on radio waves from Jupiter indicate that planet has a radiation halo which would be 100 times more dangerous for spacemen than the Van Allen radiation belts around the earth, said Frank D. Drake of the National Radio Astronomy Observatory, Green Bank, W. Va. Drake spoke at opening sessions of the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science.

Speculate On Cause

The heat of a planet produces radio emissions of a certain frequency or signal, which can be picked up by sensitive radio telescopes.

The radio studies have supplied the first observation of the hard surface of Venus, Drake said. The temperature has been nearly 565 degrees—almost three times the boiling point of water—for at least the last three years.

The heat could come from a hot core, or more probably be due to the greenhouse-type heating effect from the thick veil of clouds surrounding Venus, Drake said.

Venus' clouds were recently shown to contain water vapor.

But water on the surface would boil away, making it "very unlikely that life exists. The planetary surface probably consists, at most, of barren rock and deserts."

GREAT JUMP IN ERIE TRADING DURING 1959

ERIE, Pa. (AP) — Nearly one million tons more shipping passed through the Port of Erie in 1959 than in 1958, Port Director Calvin E. Dingler said today.

Some 2,500,000 tons went through the port in 1958. This year over-all cargo totaled 3,488,508 tons.

About 100,000 tons of cargo passed through the new Duquesne Marine Terminal, constructed specifically for the 475 million dollar seaway.

DID YOU GET OCELOT OR MINKAJOU ON CHRISTMAS?

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Did you find a minkajou in your stocking Christmas morning? Or maybe a cheetah or ocelot nestling under the Christmas tree?

It could have happened if your Sugar Daddy had done his shopping with W. Engler. Bill Engler is a 46-year-old civil engineer who can provide just the right animal for your home — if you're the adventurous type.

Started As Hobby
Engler was finishing up his Christmas orders and discussing his strange sideline. "It started as a hobby," he said, "but it's getting to be a pretty good business."

He supplies all kinds of animals to the film studios. For instance, he just sent to Singapore for a producer with a jungle epic. How he finds the animals is a trade secret. But he admitted to contacts with other compounds from Africa to Switzerland.

Engler believes there's nothing like having a cat around the house — but what cats!

Sells Lots Of Them

"I sell a lot of ocelots," he said. "They're pretty, but inclined to be roughnecks; they get into everything. Now a jaguarundi is much nicer. It comes from Central and South America and is cute, pretty and affectionate, too. Personally, I like a cheetah. I have one around the house — it even sleeps with me. It's absolutely affectionate."

All cats can be housebroken, Engler said, and all are primarily clean — just like the more common, domestic variety. Even lions will make good house pets, he said, if trained early enough — "but they eat too much."

Engler's prices range from $6,000 for a snow leopard to $35 for a squirrel monkey.

cated May 18, 1959, gave Erie its first foreign shipping — 4,877 tons of imports and 1,482 tons of exports.

"We feel that the new terminal did well for the first year of operation," Dingler said. "Our records is tremendous in comparison with other ports' first year operations."

Dingler said new facilities at the old Erie Port in connection with the St. Lawrence Seaway was a further boost to shipping.

Steel Strike Hurt
Eight ships were tied up at the docks due to the steel strike. Dingler said the port would have handled close to 5,000,000 tons of cargo without a steel strike.

Fifty-five ships, including 15 foreign vessels, used the Duquesne Terminal with no major bottle-

Christmas Angel Feels Sorry For People And Their Troubles

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Santa Claus had come and gone in the stealth of night.

The children awakened early and ripped through their Christmas packages with glad cries — like raiding savages falling upon a surprised fort at dawn.

All morning the living room had echoed with their merriment, and the tumult of visiting torrents of other children in the building. It was littered with the debris of their joy.

Some Sadness Too

Brightly colored wrapping paper was piled high in the wastebaskets. An abandoned doll lay under the table. An engine and two cars had run off the toy railway tracks, and turned over. A child's new sweater hung limply from the back of a chair.

After a big Christmas dinner, the dishes had been carried to the kitchen and scraped, then piled unwashed in the sink. Mother had decided to do them later, and retreated to the bedroom for a rest.

Now it was dusk and father was stretched out on the sofa. He heard the shouts of the children playing outside, and suddenly his heart was swept with an overpowering and nameless sadness. He recalled a time when he had been a child, too, and shouted all necks or problems.

"Engineering surveys are now being conducted with an eye toward building new facilities at the port," Dingler said. "Should we have more than four ships in one day at Duquesne Terminal a bottleneck may result."

Christmas Angel Talks

The father's eyes shifted in reverie to a small angel stop the Christmas tree near the sofa. All at once—or was he dreaming?—the angel yawned and slowly let down her outflung wings and folded them against her sides.

"I guess it's as good a time as any to rest my feathers," she said, then asked the man on the sofa: "Why are you looking so glum?"

"Christmas now sometimes makes me feel blue," said the man.

"Why?" inquired the angel.

"I get to thinking of Christmases past when I was a boy," said the man.

As Long As You Remember

"And I remember the friends I had when I was a boy, and now they are all gone, too, or scattered."

"Didn't you appreciate them then?" asked the angel.

"In a way I did, and in a way I didn't," said the man. "But I never bothered to let them know. I never realized then I wouldn't have them forever."

"But as long as you remember the ones you think you lost, aren't they really with you?" asked the angel.

"Well, yes," said the man, "but—"

"You people," said the angel. "You never grow up really, do you? You want what you don't need; you overlook the things that make you most happy."

Hard On Husbands

"Don't angels ever feel sorry?" asked the man.

METHODISTS OF U. S. MARK ANNIVERSARY

By TOM HENSHAW

AP Religion Writer

It was the Christmas season, 1784.

A youthful United States was taking its first uncertain steps as an independent nation.

The man of the hour was young, too — the Marquis de Lafayette, at 27 just completing a triumphal tour of the land he had helped to free.

And so were the 60-odd ministers who gathered in conference at the Lovely Lane Church in Baltimore.

175th Anniversary
Their average age was only 35, but their mission was one that went beyond their years.

They were to organize the Methodist Church in America.

Beginning Sunday and for the next week, American Methodists will observe the 175th anniversary of that organization meeting.

The center of the celebration be the Lovely Lane Church where about 3,000 young Methodist min-people," said the angel and, ruffling her feathers, lifted her wings once more.

A moment later the mother entered the room carrying a blanket. She spread the blanket over the figure of the sleeping man on the sofa.

"Poor dear," she said softly. She looked up and winked—as one woman to another—at the silent angel atop the tree. "Christmas is so hard on husbands."

isters, all under 35, will take part in the observance.

The selection of the church and the youthful clergymen is significant.

Keep Youthful Vigor
The Lovely Lane Church has changed — it's a mile and a half from its original site now — but Methodism has never quite lost its youthful vigor.

Since 1784, its membership has increased from 15,000 to nearly 10 million, making it the largest Protestant denomination in the country.

The startling growth was due, particularly in the early days, to the "circuit rider," an institution which Methodism did not invent but brought to its fullest flower.

The ride, was an itinerant minister, his saddle bags stuffed with scriptures and tracts, who served a circuit of some 20 or 30 points of ministry.

Francis Asbury, the first bishop ordained on American soil, was a circuit rider who estimated that he covered about 6,000 miles a year on horseback, preaching and exhorting.

So many of the early Methodist ministers were circuit riders that the denomination's clergymen seldom lived to a ripe old age, for the circuit was a grueling experience.

The success of Methodism, especially in the early West, also has been attributed to its ability to match the pioneer spirit of the pioneer spirit of the times. The circuit riders can take a good deal of credit for this, too.

Man's Hopes For Peace On Earth Seem Brighter After Most Calm Xmas In Years

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Man's hopes for peace on earth brightened today after the happiest and most relaxed Christmas the world has known since World War II.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev agreed on the holiday celebrating the birth of Christ to an East-West summit conference in Paris this spring though he urged an alternate date to the West's proposal for a start April 27. A meeting then might keep him away from the Soviet May Day celebration, one of the Communists' biggest holidays.

Peace was far from universal with rebellion in Algeria, troop movements in Iran and Iraq, tension along the India-China border, unrest in French-owned Martinique, bombardment of the Chinese Nationalist offshore islands, jitters in revolutionary Cuba and diehard Red guerrillas holding out in the jungles of Malaya.

Minimized Troubles
The outpouring of good will on Christmas 1959 tended to minimize these isolated trouble spots, however, in the prayerful hopes for peace by millions.

For Christians the focal point of the day's religious celebrations remained in Bethlehem with the rites which have been carried down through the centuries unchanged in the changing world. Pilgrims from West and East flocked to the little town where Christ was born to pay homage at a manger where lay a symbolic statue of an infant in swaddling clothes.

Thousands attended Roman Catholic and Protestant services and wandered through the Holy Land in the biggest demonstration of faith there in years.

Pope Gives Blessing
In Rome, Pope John XXIII, from the balcony of St. Peter's Basilica, gave his blessing to the world and spoke of peace on earth as "the gift of Heaven" for sincere men.

Christian religious services were held also behind the Iron Curtain—even in the Soviet Union, which officially mocks religion.

The Soviet news agency Tass, in a rare report on religious events quoted Latvia's Evangelical-Lutheran Archbishop Gustav Turs as calling Christmas a festival of peace.

Mass In Moscow
For the first time in several years, an American Roman Catholic priest officiated at a midnight mass in Moscow for the foreign colony. Episcopal services were held in the British embassy in the Soviet capital.

In Poland, the Communist press printed Christmas greetings to its readers.

The United States and western Europe, enjoying general prosperity, celebrated with traditional family gatherings after services.

CASINO OWNER IS SHOT DOWN

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP) — Police held a former gambling house girl as a material witness today but reported they had no definite lead on who shot and killed Bill Duffin, a casino owner. Six slugs were fired into Duffin's back Christmas Day as he climbed into his car on the main street here, just two blocks from the state Capitol.

The burst of gunfire came during a light snowfall just outside the Silver Spur Casino. Duffin, co-owner of the Senator Club, was killed almost instantly.

Police Chief Bob Humphreys said Ruby Barker, 34, was with Duffin. After questioning, the former Senator Club employee was held as a material witness "for her own safety." She formerly had made change for customers at the casino.

"She says she heard the shots and heard Bill moan," Humphreys said. "But she claims she saw nothing."

The chief said Mrs. Barker's husband, Eldon, also was questioned but that lie detector tests seemed to discount any love-triangle motive.

HUNTERSTOWN — Mr. and Mrs. Charles Little, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Little and son, Bobbie, and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Sanders and children, Michael and Daniel, were guests at a turkey dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rudisill, York, Thursday. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Dennis, New Oxford. Howard Burney and daughters, Caroline, Barbara and Loretta, Philadelphia, spent Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Mosser and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kerrigan visited Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Stambaugh, Hanover.

Mrs. Lorene Simpson and son, Jerry, who have spent several months here, have returned to their home in North Wilkesboro, N. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Greyson Eiler and daughters, Anita and Teena, are spending the Christmas holidays

SUMMIT DATE IS UP IN AIR BECAUSE IT'S 'INCONVENIENT'

PARIS (AP)—Nikita S. Khrushchev's one reservation in his cordial acceptance of the West's proposal for a Paris-in-the-spring-time summit meeting left the starting date up in the air today.

That means yuletide work for diplomats of the United States, Britain and France on the question: If not April 27, when?

April 27 was proposed by President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and President Charles de Gaulle at their meeting here last weekend for a Paris session with the Soviet Premier, perhaps the forerunner of a series of summit meetings on world problems.

Date Inconvenient
But that almost certainly would mean the Paris conference—expected to last at least a week—would run through the May Day labor celebration, one of the biggest holidays in the Communist world. Khrushchev ordinarily is in Moscow on May 1 to review Red Square parades.

The Soviet Premier agreed to the other proposals in replies to Eisenhower, Macmillan and De Gaulle Christmas Day, but said that unfortunately the April 27 date "is inconvenient for the Soviet government."

He urged April 21 or May 4 as alternative dates, at the same time expressing hope that this would not create any complications.

Complications Evident
Though Western sources voiced pleasure at Khrushchev's acceptance of Paris as the site, complications were immediately evident.

For one thing Macmillan is due to be host at a meeting of Commonwealth prime ministers in London May 3.

For another, the April 21 date might conflict with De Gaulle's plans to visit the United States and Canada about April 17 or 19.

Western Summit Too
Then the Western Big Three leaders propose to crowd in another short Western summit meeting in Paris just before the top East-West talks.

In Washington, State Department translators did a speed-up job on Khrushchev's message to Eisenhower and got it quickly into the President's hands. There was no immediate White House reaction.

One point sure to be in the background of Western consultations is the fact the United States, Britain and France still have some differences on issues to be talked over with Khrushchev. Diplomatic experts could use extra time to resolve them in the interests of a common front.

BLIND COUPLE HIT BY TRUCK

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Edwin Dunhoff lay in a hospital bed Christmas day and talked about the hit-and-run accident that put him there and, unaware to him, killed his blind wife.

"I was selling pencils, hoping to make a few extra dollars to buy Christmas gifts for my nieces and nephews," said the 50-year-old Dunhoff, himself blinded shortly after birth.

"Last thing I knew that darn fool came out of nowhere," he added. "He must have been going damn fast. That's all I remember."

Truck Involved
Dunhoff and his wife, about 50 and crippled by polio, were run down by a panel truck Thursday night in the city's Lawrenceville section. The vehicle then sped away.

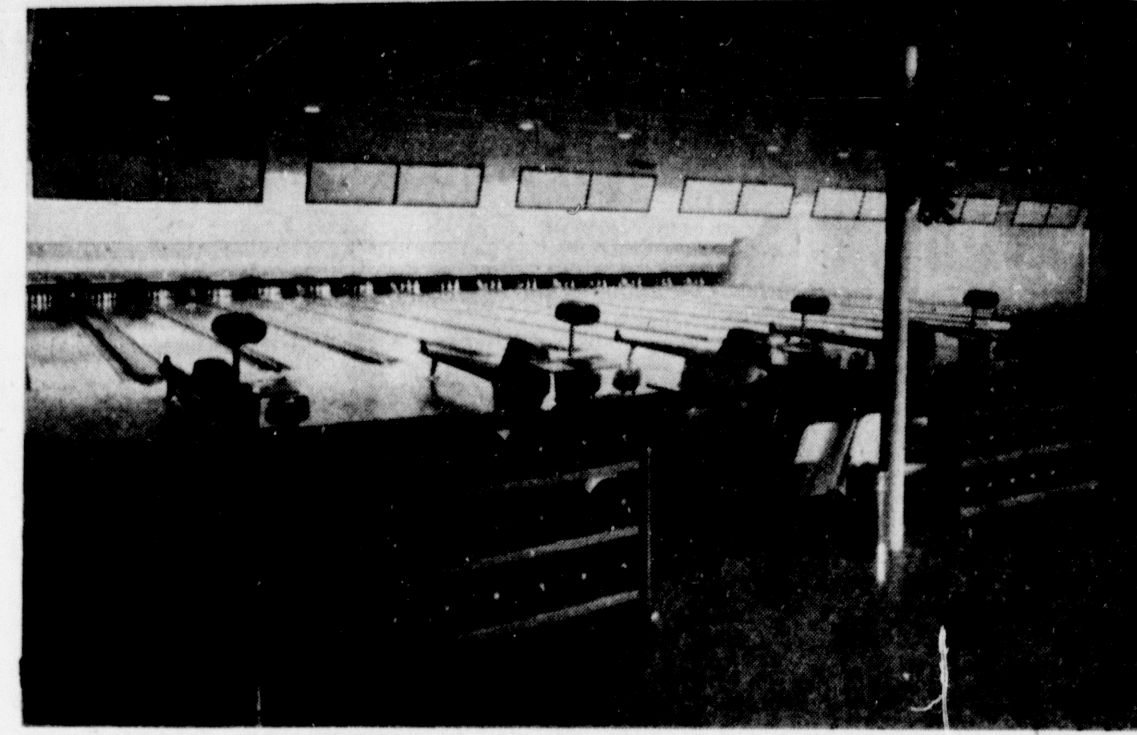

"If things would've worked out all right last night we would have had Christmas with my nieces and nephews," he went on. "We looked forward to Christmas. It's a nice holiday."

A reporter at his bedside didn't have the heart to tell him that his wife was dead. Neither did a Catholic nun standing nearby. A relative broke the news later.

with relatives in N. C. John Doris Taughinbaugh arrived by jet plane Monday from their homes in California to spend the Christmas holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Ed Taughinbaugh. Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Davis, York, spent Christmas at the same home. It was the first time in sixteen years all the members of the family have been together for Christmas.

On January 14 at 7:30 p.m. pictures will be shown at the Methodist Church of a trip around the world. The public is invited.

SOUNDS GOOD
Sprinkle vanilla pudding with pistachio nuts for interesting texture and flavor.

These are interior views of the big, new and modern Edgewood Lanes along the Emmitsburg Rd., south of here, where a grand opening has been announced for Monday. A feature of the opening will be an exhibition of expert bowling by Steve Nagy, nationally known professional bowler.

SUIT BROUGHT BY LIBERACE IS SETTLED

LONDON (AP) — Liberace's British attorney has announced settlement of a legal action brought by the American TV entertainer against a London revue. Liberace claimed he was libeled and slandered in the Apollo Theater show "For Amusement Only" which closed last fall. Writs were issued against comedian Jimmy Thompson, who appeared in a Liberace skit, scriptwriter Peter Myers and the theatrical production firm of Linnit and Dunfee.

In a Christmas holiday statement, attorney David Jacobs said the British defendants have apologized to Liberace, paid his costs "and at his request made a donation to the Actors' Benevolent Fund."

Thompson was a witness in the libel suit brought by Liberace last summer against William Neil Connor — columnist Cassandra of the London Daily Mirror. Liberace was awarded 8,000 pounds ($22,400) in that action.

Soviet Expedition Complete Journey

LONDON (AP) — A 16-man Soviet expedition today reached the American scientific base at the South Pole, a 1,600-mile trek across icy antarctica, Radio Moscow announced.

The station said the Soviets rattled up to the base in a procession of tractor sleds, ending a hazardous three-month journey from Mirny Observatory on the Indian Ocean's Antarctic Coast. Expedition leader Alexander Dralokin was reported to have radioed that his men felt fine and the equipment was in good condition. Moscow gave no details of how long the visitors would stay. A little sugar added to an apple-bread stuffing for duck helps bring out flavor.

Agent Suggests Method For Profit In Hog Production; Says Do Away With Hazards

By FRANK S. ZETTLER
Adams County Farm Agent

Twelve dollar market hogs don't pay the mortgage. No farmer needs to be reminded of this fact. But many producers who are in production to stay in bleak as well as prosperous times could make their operations more economical. Feed costs make up 70 to 80 per cent of the total swine production costs. Therefore, get as much production as possible out of every dollar spent for feed.

And don't overlook those sows, either. Five to six pounds of a 15 per cent protein ration is enough for pregnant sows and gilts. Over-fat sows will not produce as many live, healthy pigs as those in proper condition. This results in lowering efficiency in two ways: fewer baby pigs are produced, and feed was wasted in putting on excessive fat.

Added Expense Risks
 Another thing, don't keep those hard breeding sows. Every heat period that passes before she settles means that she is adding four to five dollars extra in feed cost alone onto the next litter she does produce. In addition many hard breeding sows do not produce large, healthy litters which are necessary in holding down costs.

It often pays producers to stand back and take a good look at their operations. Often there are many ways to economize production. It will be the person who cuts expenses to the bone that will ride out the storm and be in position to be a profit-taker when prices start to climb again.

Fence posts are sure to last 15-20 years after treatment with pentachlorophenol.

Treat only posts that take treatment well. Red pine removed as thinnings from plantations are ideal for this purpose.

Creosote Method
 "Penta or creosote does the job" but it must penetrate one-half inches or more to be effective. Using a brush to apply treatments in a waste of time and money.

A three-step treatment is suggested.

1. Remove all bark.
2. Let the posts dry out completely before treating.
3. Immerse them full length in the preservative for 24-48 hours.

Several species resist decay. Those include maple, black locust, white oak, and larch.

Lumber yards usually carry pressure-treated posts. These will last 40 years or more and will prove to be the best investment for permanent fences.

Turning dairy cows into an exercise lot once or twice each day is essential if cows are to remain in a vigorous, healthy condition.

This practice enables the dairyman to detect lameness or signs of sickness before they are noticed in the stanchion row. Even more important, "standing" heat can be detected to insure proper timing of service.

Inspecting the exercise lot is a "must" so hazards can be eliminated.

Eliminate Hazards
 Fences and gates should be repaired, if necessary. Anything which might cause injury to the cows should be removed—stumps, boulders, loose wire, scrap lumber. Low spots should be filled with crushed stone or cinders, because mud holes can help cause foot rot. Adequate drainage should be provided for the entire lot, particularly if run-off water from the barn roof is a problem.

After the exercise lot has been put in good condition, the important thing is to use it. Some dairymen have the mistaken idea that cows should not be turned out in cold weather. As a matter of fact, temperatures never get too low in Pennsylvania for cows to be out for at least 15 to 20 minutes. If they are turned out each day so

WOULD EXPAND PROGRAMS IN PA. SCHOOLS

MORRISVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Dr. Charles H. Boehm, state superintendent of public instruction, wants schools to use 5 per cent of their state aid to improve and expand education programs.

Dr. Boehm, interviewed at his home Friday, said the 5 per cent should be used for improvement of libraries, expansion of advanced and "honors" courses and for post graduate education of teachers.

He said he would ask Gov. David Lawrence to propose legislation setting this money apart from routine school operations.

He said many elementary and secondary school libraries are below standards set by the American Library Assn.

Dr. Boehm added that advance courses should be expanded so that some students can skip the freshman year of college.

To Probe Reports Of Highway Waste

HARRISBURG (AP)—Sen. George N. Wade (R - Cumberland) says his senate highways committee will investigate reports of waste and delay in federally aided highway construction.

The committee chairman said Friday that an open hearing would be scheduled as soon as possible next year.

His action followed a report to Congress by U. S. Comptroller General Joseph Campbell that the state program has been needlessly delayed.

Park H. Martin, state secretary of highways, will be invited to appear at the meeting, Wade said.

Spread Cheer On Christmas Day

HARRISBURG (AP)—State employees, church and civic organizations worked hard Friday too make Christmas a little brighter for persons in state institutions.

Gifts, carols, religious services and turkeys were on the program for patients in state hospitals and homes and inmates of correctional institutions.

The volunteer workers gave special attention to the thousands of mentally retarded and crippled children. Toys were distributed and special entertainment was provided for the youngsters.

they become accustomed to winter weather, cows should be allowed to exercise outdoors even in sub-zero weather. The only exceptions are severe sleet storms or when the lot is so slippery that the cows might be injured by falling.

The Chicago Cardinals are playing their home football games in Soldier Field this season after a long stay at Comiskey Park.

JOBLESS PAY CLAIMS JUMP

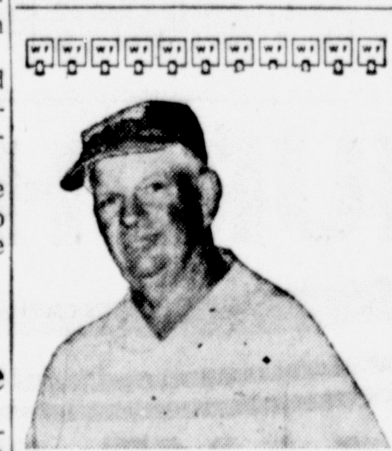

HARRISBURG (AP)—The number of unemployed persons seeking unemployment benefits from the state decreased last week.

The State Labor and Industry Department reported Thursday that new claims for the state aid dropped 9 per cent to 29,822.

Continued claims, the department said, were down to 168,639—or 1,232 below the previous week.

The department said the continued claims included 7,071 workers still out of work as a result of the long steel strike. The number, however, was 3,238 below the previous week.

COWBOY, THEN TYCOON, DIES CHRISTMAS DAY

RENO, Nev. (AP) — George Wingfield, a cowboy and roulette dealer who became Nevada's most influential tycoon, died Christmas night at the age of 83.

Death came to the banker, hotelman, mining investor and political figure after an undisclosed but lengthy ailment.

Thousands lost most of their savings when his 12 banks closed during the depression. Many years later they got 40 cents on each dollar deposited.

Wingfield came to Nevada as a 19-year-old cowboy with a drive of 2,900-head of cattle from Lakeview, Ore., to Winnemucca in 1885. After working at local ranches he became a roulette dealer.

As an associate of U.S. Sen. George Nixon, he invested in banking and mining in Tonopah on the threshold of its 1906 gold boom.

Backed Gold Miners

He financed the first successful prospectors at Goldfield and then persuaded miners, who were quibbling over claims, to sell their property to the Goldfield Consolidated Mines Co. The miners went to work on their own claims as employees of the firm headed by Nixon and Wingfield.

The combined properties eventually produced about 100 million dollars in ore.

Wearing a gun, Wingfield and his partners successfully stood off the International Workers of the World, a left-wing labor group that tried to organize Goldfield workers in 1906.

It was frequently said he dominated the state's Republican party from behind the scenes. He was a GOP national committeeman.

SMEAR WALLS OF SYNAGOGUE IN COLOGNE

COLOGNE, Germany (AP) — West German officials promised swift action today against any flareups of anti-Semitism after seizing two men for smearing the walls of a Cologne synagogue Christmas Eve with red-painted swastikas and the words "Germans we demand: Jews, get out!"

Josef-Herrmann Dufhues, interior minister of the North Rhine-Westphalia state government, went before a nationwide TV audience to say he was convinced there is no anti-Semitism in West Germany.

"Only a few outsiders resort to such an outrage and we will watch them closely," he declared.

Dr. Gerhard Schroeder, federal minister of the interior, sent a telegram to Cologne's Jewish community expressing regret over the desecration.

Neo-Nazi Members

Police said the two men being held are members of the neo-Nazi German Reich party. They were booked as Arnold Strunk, a baker, and Paul Josef Schoenen, a clerk. Both are 25.

In another part of Cologne, a bucketful of black paint was poured over a monument to victims of Nazi rule. The city and state governments offered rewards for clues to help investigators.

Dufhues promised an investigation will be conducted "rigidly and publicly" to determine whether political forces were behind the incidents.

The desecrated synagogue was inaugurated only last September.

TANKS PATROL AFTER RIOTS

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — Army tanks today were reported patrolling the streets of Kandahar, Afghanistan, as an aftermath of rioting Monday.

Radio Pakistan, attributing its information to reliable sources, said authorities of the neighboring kingdom fear another riot may be imminent and south Afghan towns have been reinforced by radio-equipped troops.

The broadcast said the governor of Kandahar Province had been forced to flee Monday to escape mobs which surrounded and fired on his home. The demonstrators also were reported to have burned a movie theater and three shops and sought to march on the local prison to free its 400 inmates.

Kandahar is Afghanistan's second city. With a population of about 77,000, it lies 285 miles southwest of Kabul, the capital visited by President Eisenhower Dec. 9 on his peace-in-freedom goodwill tour.

"Certain seditious elements instigated a number of people not to pay taxes to the government," it said, "and they held demonstrations."

FARMER'S GIFT
KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—The Church of the Nazarene disclosed it has been willed a total of $157,000 by the late Grant Miner, a wealthy Rantoul, Ill., farmer who died in 1957. It is the largest single gift the church ever received from an American's estate.

NEW YORK (AP) — Actors' Equity has donated $150,000 toward construction of the new home at Englewood, N. J., of the Actors' Fund of America.

The Actors' Fund, which provides for the welfare of needy theatrical veterans, is building the center at an estimated cost of $750,000.

WET WEATHER OVER NATION

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Somber and wet weather ranged over the nation today.

There was snow, rain and freezing drizzle. Fair skies peeked through cloud covers in only three areas: the central Gulf Coast, Florida and the Carolinas and California-Nevada.

Rain that turned to snow fell at higher elevations during the night from Arizona and New Mexico northward into Montana. Salt Lake City got an inch of new snow and several areas in central Arizona reported about .25 inch.

Two roads were blocked in south-east Colorado.

Scattered patches of light rain or drizzle fell from northern California northward to the Canadian border, from Texas into the central Plains and from the Gulf of Mexico northward through the Ohio River region.

Drizzle and freezing drizzle made roads slick and hazardous from North Dakota eastward into the upper Great Lakes area, especially Wisconsin.

Scattered, light falls of snow filtered down on New England.

Temperatures rose from 5 to more than 20 degrees in the eastern two-thirds of the nation during the past 24 hours. Mercury readings in New England soared from near zero to the 30-degree mark during the night.

MAN IS HELD FOR "WEIRD" XMAS MURDER

HERRIN, Ill. (AP)—Dr. W. J. Goodpaster, 46-year-old optometrist and horseman, is charged with murder in the weird Christmas morning slaying of a neighbor woman and the wounding of her common law husband.

Goodpaster is being held without bond in Williamson County jail at Marion. He is a brother of Gen. Andrew J. Goodpaster, staff secretary to President Eisenhower.

Bernard Dobraski, 32, who referred to the 51-year-old victim, Margaret Strunk, as his wife, told authorities Goodpaster became irate over an incident involving his watch dog, chased them in his jeep and shot them down on a lonely country road. Goodpaster denied any part in the shootings.

Shot In Back

Authorities said the Strunk woman, the mother of 10 children, was shot in the back of the head from close range, then dragged 93 feet and dumped in a water-filled, abandoned coal strip mine.

Officers searched another water-filled strip mine near Goodpaster's home for the weapon, believed to be a .30 caliber Army carbine. They planned to renew the search today.

Dobraski was wounded twice in the base of the skull but ran about 600 yards to a nearby home where authorities were notified. Late Christmas night he underwent surgery at Barnes Hospital in St. Louis, which reported his condition as serious but not critical.

REVERSAL ON TAX CLAIMS

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The U. S. Third Circuit Court of Appeals has ruled that a couple who operate a resort hotel in the Poconos cannot deduct from their income tax their own food, heat and light as legitimate business expenses.

The court ruled 2-1 Thursday against Thomas Robinson and his wife, Elaine. They run a hotel near Stroudsburg.

In 1953 the couple listed $1,200 as business expenses as food they ate at their hotel, insurance on their apartment in a nearby building, heat and light for the apartment and personal phone calls.

The commissioner of the Internal Revenue Service disallowed the claims but was overruled in an appeal to the U. S. Tax Court.

The majority opinion, written by Judge Herbert F. Goodrich with Chief Judge John Biggs Jr. concurring, said:

"The millions of taxpayers in this country who spend money for carfare, lunches and clothes each day in order that they may arrive at their place of business and be fit to carry it on cannot deduct what they pay the bus company, the restaurant proprietor or the clothing merchant. These taxpayers are in the same position."

NEW BOWLING

(Continued From Page 1) weight according to the user. Men usually roll a 14 to 16-pound ball, while women and children prefer 12 to 13 and 10 to 11 pounds, respectively. Shaffer said.

"Bernard Harman, who has been specially trained for the job and is certified by the American Bowling Congress, is our instructor and gives free lessons to beginners.

"Some of the refinements at Edgewood are the 'magic brain' pin setter which, in addition to setting the pins, wipes them off, notifies bowlers of foul line violations, bowling sequence and gives the score on the overhead 'telescope' boards. This is especially useful during league play. The 'telescope' board is to bowlers what the football or baseball scoreboard is to fans at those events. We also have a 'rapid subway' ball return mechanism. This device 'shoots' the ball back to the bowler immediately. It's powered by a powerful booster motor.

Leagues are now forming. We have league nights every night but Sundays and are inviting additional teams for Wednesday and Friday nights.

"We're open on weekdays from noon to midnight, Saturdays, 9 a.m. to midnight and on Sundays, from 1 in the afternoon to midnight. We have a few other services such as a nursery, lockers and a snack shop. We sell bowling bags, shoes and Brunswick 'Customatic' bowling balls which custom-fit the individual bowler's hand."

Steve Nagy of the Brunswick advisory staff will appear in a special exhibition at 2 and 3:30 p.m. Monday, date of the grand opening. He is a veteran of 30 years in tournament competition. Nagy has a five-year league average of 205, a top series of 831 and rolled 25 300 games.

CHRISTMAS QUIET WASHINGTON (AP) — President and Mrs. Eisenhower will fly to Augusta, Ga., Sunday for a short vacation. They plan to stay through New Year's Day.

On Christmas they spent a quiet day at the White House, after attending Christmas Eve services at the National Presbyterian Church.

Their son, Maj. John Eisenhower, spent Christmas with his family in their Gettysburg, Pa., home.

W.C. FORBES, 89 EX-DIPLOMAT, DIES THURSDAY

BOSTON (AP) — W. Cameron Forbes, 89, businessman-diplomat whose government career spanned four different presidential administrations, died Thursday.

He had been in poor health for several years and had been confined to his room in a Back Bay hotel for the past few months. He was a bachelor.

Much of his diplomatic work was in the Far East beginning in 1904 when President Theodore Roosevelt appointed him to the Philippine Commission, governing body of the islands from 1902 to 1916.

Was Ambassador To Japan The climax of his government service came in 1930 when he was appointed ambassador to Japan by President Hoover. He remained at that post until 1932.

He had planned to return to private business in 1931 but the Manchurian crisis that year delayed him.

President Taft named him vice governor general of the Philippines in 1908 and a year later he became governor general.

He kept that post until 1913 when he quit to return to private business. He was again called to service in 1921 when President Harding chose him and Gen. Leonard Wood as special investigators of the Philippines where clamor was growing for independence.

Famous Grandfather President Hoover summoned him in 1930 to serve as chairman of a commission to Haiti. With the completion of the commission's task, Hoover sent Forbes to Japan as ambassador.

One of his grandparents was essayist Ralph Waldo Emerson. He was a Harvard overseer from 1914 to 1920 and also served as a member of the corporation of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Lighted Cigarette Fire Chief Delmar Alexander said damages to the ruined plant, on busy U.S. 42, amounted to $400,000.

Howard Vandell, chief liquid propane gas inspector for the State Department of Public Safety, said the blast may have come from a gas-and-oil furnace in the warehouse.

An ambulance attendant said Smith told him en route to a hospital that the explosion came as he lighted a cigarette in his office.

Truck Blown Sideways State Police sent 50 troopers into the wrecked town to prevent looting and keep back the curious. Telephone lineman Kenneth Kenner said he was in a truck driving toward the warehouse when it exploded.

"A puff of blue and gray smoke rose 300 feet in the air and my truck was blown sideways about 10 feet," he said. "This place looks like a war-torn town."

Forest Station Leveled By Fire HAZLETON, Pa. (AP)—Fire of undetermined origin destroyed a state forest service station here Friday.

District Forest Inspector Robert Startzel estimated damage at about $15,000.

The station included a 45-foot fire tower and a connecting garage and Startzel's apartment. He was visiting friends when the fire started and the station was unoccupied.

NO LEGALIZED RACE BETTING IN PA. 'TIL '61

By LEONARD A. UNGER
HARRISBURG (AP)—You can write off the possibility of legalized betting on harness racing in Pennsylvania during 1960—and it will take fast work to get it under way even in 1961.

The new law Gov. Lawrence signed the other day doesn't take effect until Feb. 20. In effect, he won't be able to appoint the three-member state harness racing commission until at least that time.

County referendum authorizing establishment of local tracks—a maximum of four in the commonwealth—may be held only in a primary election. The 1960 primary is April 26.

Expect Them In 1961
Petitions for a local referendum, after clearing the state commission, must be filed with county election officials 60 days before a primary election. That sets up a deadline of Feb. 26.

The interim of a week between the time the law takes effect and the deadline for filing referendum petitions is much too short.

How about 1961?
You can expect a county referendum or two in the May primary election of that year. Whether actual racing will be under way that year is a question.

Time Involved
Groups interested in building a harness racing track must file the plans for the construction with the state commission. After receiving clearance there, they go to the county voters for approval.

If accepted, it can be expected to take months to complete construction of a track, including the seats for spectators, a tote board for calculating betting odds, etc.

That's why informed opinion in Harrisburg isn't too optimistic about harness race betting program getting under way until 1962.

Courts A Hurdle
One of the biggest pitfalls in setting up the program could be a negative court decision.

Constitutionality of the new law was raised in the House during debate on the measure. One member contended that it was illegal because of a limitation of four tracks—one to a county. He asked

Doctor's Death Remains Mystery

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Coroner Joseph Govekar of Cambria County says an autopsy failed to show the cause of death of Dr. John G. Jones, 36, a surgeon at Flick State Hospital in nearby Cresson.

The coroner said Thursday laboratory tests must be made in a further attempt to find the cause. Dr. Jones, affiliated with the hospital the past seven years, was found dead Thursday evening in the bedroom of his home on hospital grounds.

He was a native of Sunbury, Pa. Surviving are his widow and two sons.

COURT ASKED TO HOLD UP SEIZURE PLAN

PITTSBURGH (AP)—State Supreme Court has been asked to prevent the seizure and destruction of multiple coin pinball machines pending an appeal of the court's ruling that the machines are illegal.

Anthony Cavalcante, a Uniontown attorney representing a number of machine owners in southwestern Pennsylvania, said he filed a petition with the court Thursday.

After Supreme Court ruled the machines illegal gambling devices, State Atty. Gen. Anne X. Alpern said any found in the state after Jan. 1 would be seized.

Due Process Law
Cavalcante said he and Atty. Jacob Kossman of Philadelphia are preparing to appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court on grounds the State Supreme Court ruling was contrary to due process of law.

He said the state has no right to seize machines while he prepares an appeal and while State Supreme Court still holds the records of the case.

He said that if Miss Alpern "carries out her threat to destroy the machines after Jan. 1, I think she will be misinterpreting the law."

"Desperation" Move
In reply, Miss Alpern said: "Unless the United States Supreme Court or any other court grants a stay, the machines will what would happen if voters in more than four counties approved the idea.

Estimates Uncertain
The answer to that was that the State Commission would approve no more than four applications for establishment of a track. If the voters in a county rejected the idea, then the commission would be allowed to okay another application—and so on until the four-track quota is filled.

Estimates on the state's revenue take were still uncertain. The commonwealth would collect a 5 per cent levy on admissions and on the total betting, it keeping 34 of the net.

The remaining money would be distributed to county fair and local harness racing associations as prizes.

WIFE'S FORMER LOVER HELD IN SNIPER DEATH

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Charles R. Clark, a 30-year-old former model, says the man being held in connection with the sniper slaying of her husband was her lover for eight months.

Mrs. Clark, mother of four children, told of a love affair with Floyd E. Hargrove, 34, in a written statement she made to county authorities on Christmas.

Hargrove was held without bond in the Lake County jail. He maintained he had nothing to do with the Christmas Eve shooting. He was not charged.

Shot By Sniper

Clark, 35, was shot by a sniper's bullet as he helped his wife prepare a Christmas dinner in the kitchen of their home in Mentor.

Hargrove was described by Mentor Police Chief Frank D. Hathy as a friend of the Clark family and a frequent visitor to their home. The truck driver, father of five children, was divorced from his wife last August after a separation of three years.

Before that, police were told, the Clarks and Hargroves had often double-dated.

Husband Didn't Know

Hargrove was arrested three hours after the slaying on information police said was supplied by Mrs. Clark. He was questioned for more than 10 hours, and told police he had been visiting friends near here but was driving to his home in nearby Willoughby when the shooting occurred.

Mrs. Clark, who said her husband had no knowledge of her affair with Hargrove, told a newsman: "My husband and I got along very well. There was no thought of a separation."

Sheriff William B. Evans described Mrs. Clark as a cooperative witness and said there was no thought of holding her in connection with her husband's death.

be confiscated after January first. I do not interpret the law in the same way that Mr. Cavalcante, in his desperation, interprets it."

A stay is a court order that temporarily prevents the carrying out of a previous order.

The case originated in Fayette County in 1957 when the state seized 17 machines to test the legality of the devices. The county court, State Superior Court and State Supreme Court all ruled them illegal gambling devices. The Supreme Court recently refused to hear the case again.

ONE WAY TO DO IT

Some cooks like to start angel-food cake (made from scratch) in a cold oven and then raise the heat to slow (325 degrees).

Taneytown XMAS PARTY IS HELD SATURDAY

A banquet and Christmas party was held at Taney Inn recently by families, sponsored by George W. Crouse, owner, Taneytown.

Kenneth W. Nusbaum, sales manager, was master of ceremonies. String music was played by Donald Masimore and Larry Harris, of Westminster. Group singing was under the direction of Kenneth Crouse, with Mrs. Crouse at the piano. Games were played. The target game was won by Brenda Lee Chronister, Frances Chronister, Larry Wood and Buddy Nusbaum. The balloon contest was won by George B. Crouse and the horn contest by Charles Farley. Silver dollars were given to those participating in the contests. Pamela Brown received a silver dollar for being the youngest member present. Vocal duets were sung by Mrs. Harold Myers and daughter, Tamara, of Westminster, a piano solo by Valerie Nusbaum and group singing. Kenneth Nusbaum gave the history of the Ford Motor Company. Crouse gave greetings to the group and outlined the highlights of his career since he started in business on April 1, 1931, and later became affiliated with the Ford Motor Company as an authorized dealer in 1940.

Miniature Ford automobiles were presented to all the guests. Mr. Crouse was presented with an antique Colt Derringer pistol from his employees.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. George Crouse, George B. Crouse, Sandra Remsburg, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Crouse, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Nusbaum and children, Valerie and Buddy, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Ohler, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Myers, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Funk, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Brown and children, Douglas and Pamela, Mr. and Mrs. Neal Powell, Taneytown; Mr. and Mrs. James Wood and children, Larry, Katie and Doy, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Van Fossen and daughter, Linda, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Myers and daughter, Tamara, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Chronister and children, Brenda and Francis, Claude Marsh and Miss Naomi Stair, of Westminster, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Farley and daughter, Carolyn Jean, of Littlestown.

RODEO FINALS OPEN TODAY

DALLAS (AP)—The first world series of rodeo—the national finals—swings open today with 69 of the toughest cowboys and 253 of the meanest broncs and bulls ready to race through 10 sessions in five days and nights. Prize money totals $47,500.

Three champions are in the balance and only one of the defending champions—Jim Shoulders of Henryetta, Okla.—is in a position to repeat.

Shoulders, for the fifth year all-around cowboy if he wins only $80, can win bareback bronc and bull riding but he will have to come from behind to do it.

Other defending champions are Jim Bynum of Forrester, Tex., steer wrestling; Dean Oliver of Boise, Idaho, calf roping, and Marty Wood, Bowness, Canada, saddle bronc riding. Each is so far back he can't possibly win his specialty again.

Shoulders, however, needs only $42 to overtake Bob Wegner of Ponca City, Okla., who leads bull riding with $14,628. He is $900 behind Jack Buschom of Cassville, Wis., who tops bareback bronc with $15,742.
